

PRACTICAL WORK FOR STUDENTS IN BUSINESS COURSE

High School Pupils Get Actual Training in Business Problems

A course in cooperative salesmanship which admits change and expansion as need arises is a prominent branch of the commercial department of Appleton high school. Textbooks, class discussions, demonstrations, lectures by outside speakers, and actual practice in the business of selling are used in the course, which is given in one semester of the school year. Miss Minnie Rader teaches theory for the first five weeks of the term, and Miss Deedra Salisbury directs the organization and supervises the practical work. Each student enters a store after the theory has been learned, and works Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 2:30 to 5:30 at a minimum wage of 18 cents an hour. The merchants have cooperated splendidly with Miss Salisbury in planning the work, and hire the students for Saturdays and holidays at an increased wage.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the course is the way it has expanded and changed. Three years ago the system was started. Miss Salisbury keeps a record of the students as they work in the stores, and as problems between employers and employees come up, she finds out where the course can be supplemented and improved. For instance, several persons discovered that bundle wrapping was more difficult than it looked. A demonstration was arranged for the class period in which all varieties of bundle wrapping were shown. Even bulky brooms were neatly wrapped, and each student tried his hand at the job.

Another problem that bothers employers considerably is the question of operating a cash register. Few persons really know how to do it. And consequently, a study of a cash register has been incorporated in the course. Valuable books have been secured from a national cash register company, and are now a part of the library.

Mail order catalogs and style books are part of the bibliography of the course, and every phase of retail salesmanship is dealt with as completely and as thoroughly as the limited time allows.

The second semester of the course deals with office practice, and the library bureau of filing is taught each student. This is especially valuable and practical because many Appleton firms and offices use this method of filing. Each individual uses his own work a box which contains all kinds and classes of filing in miniature. Miss Mary Webster teaches the course, and includes with the other phases, some work in stencil cutting.

DEFER ORGANIZATION OF MILITARY CLUBS

Forming of military clubs among state military companies will be taken up at a meeting after the first of the year, it was decided at a meeting of Neenah and Waupaca representatives at Armory G Tuesday night. The Appleton company was host. Other towns were invited to send representatives and several state officers were to theming, but were unable to be present. Dinner was served, followed by a dance.

CAR OWNERS DON'T WANT ROADS OPENED

State Survey Indicates Opposition to Snow Removal Program

Motor vehicle owners generally are opposed to a general program for keeping rural highways clear of snow during the winter months, according to a survey made by the state highway commission.

Of 1,000 automobile owners who answered questionnaires on the subject, only 270 favored the plan of keeping highways open twelve months of the year. A large majority of those answering also declared that it is not economical to attempt to keep highways open throughout the year.

The questionnaire was sent to obtain a review of sentiment among a representative group of the more than 500,000 motor vehicle owners in Wisconsin. Those answering were distributed among rural communities, villages and cities. The results also show that a majority of those answering believed it is not economical to operate an automobile during the winter months.

The snow removal question has been taken up by the highway department and recommendations may be made to the next legislature on the subject. Information obtained from other states shows that states generally are taking up the task of clearing snow from the highways.

LAST SHOWING OF "FAUST" TONIGHT

Catholic Home Production Considered One of Best Ever Seen Here

Another large crowd saw "Faust," the Goethe drama presented by Catholic Home association in St. Joseph hall Thursday evening. The production will be given the last time Friday evening.

Almost 2,000 people have seen the play and it is considered one of the finest home talent productions ever staged in Appleton. The scenery and costumes especially bring forth praise for the efforts of the people in the cast and for the producers.

The play is given to benefit the education fund of the Catholic home association. This organization is preparing an educational program for the winter months and it hopes to finance the work through the home talent production.

Characters in Faust showed improvement all during the week and a special effort will be made at the final production this evening.

DENYES WILL DELIVER FOUNDATION TALKS

The Spencer Foundation lectures at Illinois Wesleyan university will be delivered this year by Dr. James R. Denyes, Lawrence professor of religion, as a recognition of his work in missions. The Spencer Foundations provide for four lectures to be delivered each year by a specialist in mission work to the university students at Bloomington, Ill.

The selection of Dr. Denyes is not only a recognition of his own ability and experience, but recognition of the high standards of Lawrence college. Dr. Denyes has accepted the offer, and will speak in Bloomington Dec. 2 and 3. He has chosen the following subjects: The Missionary's Task; Missionary Dynamic; The Wild Man of Borneo; The Problem of the Pacific.

Dr. Denyes was a college mate of William J. Davidson, president of the university.

Miss Mary Connelly of Chicago, is a guest of her brother, R. M. Connelly, 38 Bellaire-st.

TUTTLE PRESS BUSINESS BEST IN QUARTER CENTURY

Business of the Tuttle Press Co. is much better now than any time within the last 25 years, according to Edward W. Smith, general manager of that firm. There was one-third per cent more business in September and October of this year than during the same months last year, he said. Orders are booked for at least six weeks ahead and there has been an unusual amount of fine business since the election. Mr. Smith expects a very prosperous year for his firm in 1925.

ANOTHER TRAIN ON ASHLAND DIVISION

Starting Monday, Dec. 1, two new trains will be operated on the Ashland division of the Chicago and Northwestern railway between Appleton and Marshfield. The trains will be run daily except Sunday, one of them leaving Appleton at 11 o'clock in the morning, the other leaving at 7:50 in the evening.

The schedule for train No. 129 is as follows: Leaving Appleton at the Ashland division at 11 A. M.; Appleton Junction, 11:15; Eland, 1:35 P. M.; Wausau, 2:48; Marshfield, 4:20. The schedule for the return trip of train No. 128 is as follows. Leave Marshfield, 2:35 P. M.; Wausau, 4:15; Eland, 5:15; Appleton Junction, 7:50.

COLLEGE OXFORD CLUB REORGANIZES FOR YEAR

At a meeting of the Oxford club, Tuesday night Wesley E. Perry, '26, was delegated to represent the Lawrence college chapter at a convention in Evanston, Ill., of the Oxford clubs of the nation on Thursday and Friday. The meeting was held at Dr. J. R. Denyes' residence on Washington-st.

The Oxford club is composed of men who intend to enter definite Christian work after leaving school. It is being reorganized this year, and the next meeting will be devoted to electing officers and other reorganization. It will be held at the home of Dean Wilson S. Naylor on Durkeest on Tuesday evening, Dec. 2.

SPEEDERS PAID BIG SUM TO WINNEBAGO

Three Motorcycle Cops Made 141 Arrests and Collected $11,384

Oshkosh-Winnebago county motorcycle officers did a thriving business during the period extending from April to the present, according to the report of the three speeders presented before the Winnebago county board of supervisors. In approximately six months the three officers made arrests, the fines and costs of which totaled $11,384.74 as shown in the reports.

Officer Walter Plummer was the first to make his report. The arrests by months as given in his report were: April 28; May 37; June 44; July 35; August 55; September 44; October 25; November 20; making a total of 335 arrests with fines and costs amounting to $4,408.01. Two arrests were under the state law relative to rear view mirrors.

Officer Floyd Bradley, whose report was second, led the list in the number of arrests and the amount of fines and costs. The arrests by months with the fines paid were: April 17; May 21; June 28; July 20; August 22; September 20; October 14; November 14; making a total of 141 arrests and fines and costs amounting to $1,961.73. The arrests were made on the various roads as follows: Fond du Lac, 60; Jackson 69; Omro 9; and Winnebago 3.

BLANEY MELODRAMA PLEASES WITH THRILLS

There is an appeal about the title, "One Law for the Woman," at the New Bijou theater today and Saturday that suggests great possibilities and lures the spectator within the theater. Once inside there is no disappointment. The first flash of the story informs one that plenty of action may be expected before the final flash and that the hero and heroine will pass through many trials and tribulations before they are married and live happily over afterward.

To see Cullen Landis riding madly out of the town of Rawhide chased by seventy-five cowboys across the mountains and down steep passes is sure to stir the blood. Then there are real fights, mine explosions and daring deeds such as are found only in melodramas.

The thrills are offset by lighter bits of action and laughs, provoked in the main by Cecil Spooner and a Chinaman. The latter character is an old standby for western melodrama and gives the spectator the proper atmosphere in which to enjoy a real dash up-to-the-minute, pep and punch photoplay.

"One Law for the Woman" is a picture that will be enjoyed by those who like variety and plenty of action.

CLASSMATES

Richard Barthelmess' new First National production, "Classmates," which comes to the Elite Theatre on Monday Wednesday, has an interesting and unusual history.

This picturesque and colorful story of West Point life and written by William De Mille and Margaret Turnbull long before either thought of motion picture adaptation. Now Mr. DeMille is a famous director and Miss Turnbull a widely known scenario

NINE H. S. JOURNALISTS WILL GO TO CONFERENCE

Nine high school students, accompanied by Miss Olga Achtenhagen and Miss Evelyn Broderick of the faculty, will attend the fifth annual convention of the Central Intercollegiate Press association to be held under the auspices of the department of journalism, University of Wisconsin at Madison Nov. 28 and 29.

The students are Carl Schiebeler, Elizabeth Earle, Miriam Peabody, Janet Carncross, Elizabeth Post, Ethel Blake, Clifford Barrett, Rose Ann Marshall and William Lyons.

They will represent "The Tatelman," the weekly high school newspaper. Appleton high school has always had a large representation at the press conventions. "The Tatelman" will be introduced at the convention this year for it is a new feature of the high school. In former years "The Clarion," a monthly magazine, was published.

"The Clarion" has been converted into a yearbook that is issued in the spring.

Writer. Then, however, they were struggling playwrights.

"Classmates" is based upon an actual incident at West Point. Charles Klein, one of the most successful dramatists of some twenty years ago, saw a clipping of a hazing incident at the Military Academy and took it to the theatrical manager, Henry B. Harris. Both of them saw a drama in the incident, but neither could develop the right sort of plot. In time it was turned over to Mr. DeMille and Miss Turnbull.

Upon its presentation on Broadway "Classmates" proved to be a huge success. The cast included Robert Edeson in the role now played by Barthelmess, Wallace Eddinger and Frank McIntyre. As a stage play "Classmates" ran for some four years in New York and on tour.

Following out his policy of playing various phases of American life, Barthelmess hit upon doing "Classmates" for the screen. But there were unusual difficulties in the way.

It was necessary, first of all, to obtain the permission of the Military Academy and government officials. West Point had never been used as a background for a motion picture story. The Academy executives, jealous of the fine traditions of the institution, had always refused such permission.

Cod Liver Oil Now in Tasteless Tablets

Greatest Flesh Builder

No more will weak, thin, unfortunate children cry in protest when the nasty, fishy-tasting, horrible-smelling cod liver oil is brought out.

Medical science progresses rapidly, and now you can get at your druggist's real, genuine cod liver oil in sugar-coated tablets that young and old can take with ease and pleasure.

Even the run-down and skinny grown-ups, who ought to take cod liver oil, because it really is the greatest vitamin food and builder of healthy flesh in the world, will feel extremely joyful when they read this welcome news.

Of course, doctors have been prescribing cod liver oil in tablets under another name for several years, but it is only of late that one can walk into a drug store and get a box of these flesh-producing tablets just as easy as a bottle of medicine.

Thin, run-down, anaemic men, women and children who need to grow strong and take on flesh are advised to get a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets, and if you don't gain 5 pounds in 30 days just get your money back.

One woman gained fifteen pounds in five weeks, according to her own doctor—another ten pounds in three weeks. A very sickly child, aged nine, twelve—another in seven months, and now plays with other children and has a good appetite.

Just ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets. Schintz Bros., Downer's Drug Store or any good druggist will tell you that they are wonderful flesh and health builders. Only sixty cents for 60 tablets.

LABOR DIVORCES THIRD PARTY

There are a great many things of interest, some good, some not so good, to be found in the resolution adopted by the American Federation of Labor at its recent convention at El Paso, Texas.

And while Labor does not conceive that it made any mistake in endorsing the La Follette party, it has announced a future policy that will not permit it again to make a similar error. With but one dissenting vote it refused to commit itself to the support of the Third Party movement and determined that in the future it "proposes to use all parties and be used by none." That is a wise, a sagacious conclusion. It will do well if it is able to adhere to it. Labor's recent support of the Third Party cost it much in prestige.

And yet it should be said that it seemed apparent throughout the last campaign that many of the real labor leaders and thinkers could not stomach a large part of the platform of the pride of Wisconsin. The vote registered on election day has plainly shown that the Third Party made a very sorry showing where Labor was concededly the strongest. Reasons for this are ascribable not only to the natural canniness of one for the mere naked and always rosy promises of another seeking votes, but the Third Party had so hopelessly bound itself with some effeminate, impractical planks, which if enacted into law would have been the commission of harakiri by the nation, that it was properly appraised and judged by the voters quite a while before election day.

The convention at El Paso has hurried to set itself plainly before the people not only that it may not be identified in the future with the Third Party movement but also because there was much in the Third Party program with which Labor has never been identified, never been in sympathy, and it is to be hoped for its own good never will give ear.

While some may quite naturally differ with many of the planks in the labor platform as adopted at El Paso, in general they show very much more study and the operation of a much higher intelligence than the platform of the Third Party. In the first place Labor repudiates the Third Party plan of the invasion of industrial fields by the government and goes on record as being unqualifiedly opposed to any such procedure. The labor leaders know that government invasion of industry means a woeful weakening of industry and that the result will be felt in the conditions and wages of labor. Next the convention voted to refuse recognition of Russia. There is nothing in common between a feeble-minded Soviet and an American workman.

There seems to have been one plank in the Third Party platform which, while not named by the El Paso convention, must have been particularly distasteful to it. That was the plank declaring that the Third party was in favor of an amendment to the Federal Constitution prohibiting a declaration of war without a vote of the people, unless there was an actual invasion. Those in charge of the labor movement in the United States seem to understand the menace of Japan much more than the writers of third party platforms. Labor knows that if any such change were made in the American constitution it would in fact permit Japan to land in Mexico a gigantic, trained, well-equipped army for the purpose of attack upon us and that meanwhile we would have to sit idly by until actual invasion took place which would then be too late for us to properly defend ourselves. The convention met such a situation with this resolution: "Pacifism in any form is obnoxious to your committee. We are in agreement with the purpose of amply and fully safeguarding our nation and its people and democratic institutions against any and all invasion. We too believe that every effort should be made and every opportunity should be availed of that will develop the physical and mental well-being and stimulate the spirit of youth in the land."

All of which goes to show that the men in the convention were practical, alive to the dangers that ever beset a successful nation like ours, and determined not to be caught napping. Such men, clear of vision, unafraid, meeting the practical problems of life in a practical way, do not belong with the fairyland show staged by the Third Party.

RISING EXCHANGE RATES

Within the last fortnight the currency of two European countries advanced above American dollar parity, challenging, for the first time since the war, the dictatorship of the American dollar over foreign exchange. In the same period the currency of a third European country arose to par with the dollar.

On the first day the new German reichsmark was placed on the market under the Dawes regime it sold at 23.82½ cents, although its par exchange rate with the dollar is only 23.8 cents. The Swedish krona, "worth" 26.8 cents was sold on the same day for 26.84 and the Swiss franc was at par. It was also noted with satisfaction that the margin between the American dollar and the Canadian dollar and Dutch guilder had also decreased perceptibly.

These are the first and long looked forward to advances on the foreign exchange list which recall to memory the normality of 1914. It is only a beginning, but the consummation may not be so long coming as has been the beginning. What is most important, however, is that, the beginning having been made, more is to follow. Currencies that have for so long been forced to bow to the dollar simply cannot afford to bow to the reichsmark, say, or the guilder. The British pound, for instance, must now fight its way to parity, or a certain amount of British trade will go to Germany and Holland. Something or other must be done to the French franc, or France will not be able to take full advantage of German reichsmarks paid as reparations.

The dollar, of course, cannot be placed permanently at a discount. That would be just as abnormal as having all other currencies discounted for dollars. But it must yield its overwhelming advantage. A normal exchange market serves the best interests of all concerned. It will come when the rule of the dollar has been challenged by all the rest, when the dollar simply becomes the prime minister of currencies—the first among equals.

A DAY'S WORK.

WHEN the sun has gone down and the day has passed out, and your work-time has ceased for a spell, do you know what your day's work has been all about? Is your mind sick, or feelin' real well?

The eight hours for work and the eight hours for play and the eight hours for sleep sounds just right. 'Twill work out that way if you work in the day 'cause your mind will be clear for the night. The fellow who loafs and is shakin' his job plays a game that will lose in the end. It isn't your boss but yourself that you rob when to business you fail to attend.

Whenever you feel that the hours drag along and your path seems an uphill grade, the answer, perhaps, is that something is wrong in the way that you're platin' your trade.

Take a check on yourself every night when you quit, recall how your work-time was spent. You'll find that you're really feelin' real fit if you've battled one hundred per cent.

OCCUPATIONAL POISONING.

More than 100 harmful substances to which workers in various trades, industries or occupations may be exposed, are listed in a manual prepared for physicians' use by the New York state department of labor. These industrial poisons are tabulated, and the modes of entrance into the body are given. In most cases the poison enters the body through inhalation of vapor, fumes, gas or dust.

Throughout this long list of occupational poisons I find only six which, according to the manual, may enter the body by absorption through the skin. But if there six industrial poisons which can be soaked through the unbroken skin, that rather tops over the cocksure assertion I am so fond of making, namely, that no food, nutriment, drug, medication or poison is ever absorbed through the unbroken skin. Let's see who is wrong here.

The first substance which the manual tells us may enter the body in this remarkable way is anilin. Anilin is a volatile, pungent fluid used in artificial leather manufacture, calico printing, dying, lithography, colored pencil making, etc., and according to the manual it may enter the body through inhalation of the vapor or by absorption through the skin from saturated clothing. Spirits of camphor or even camphorated oil may be absorbed from saturated clothing (sometimes this happens in infants), but not through the skin; the warmth of the body volatilizes the camphor which is then inhaled as vapor. There is no other reason to imagine that anilin poisoning from clothing saturated with anilin oil occurs in any other way.

Carbon bisulphide (also called carbon disulfide) may be absorbed as vapor through inhalation or as fluid through the skin, the manual informs us. But since the inhalation of the vapor is acknowledged, and the fluid is described as colorless and volatile, I think we may apply for a certificate of reasonable doubt in this case. Carbon bisulphide is used in the extraction of fats and oils, vulcanization of rubber, purification of tallow, paraffin and wax and the extraction of fat from raw wool.

Hydrocyanic acid, used in the extraction of gold, in photography, dyeing cloth, printing, electroplating and other industries, may be absorbed, according to the manual, as a gas through inhalation and as a liquid through the skin. This latter information ought to interest authors of murder mysteries. But I should feel cheated if I encountered such a murder in a story—impossible. I should say, though here you have the authority of the eminent physicians who man the New York labor department.

Nitroglycerin, a colorless, oily fluid, which makers of explosives and pharmaceutical manufacturers handle, may be absorbed as a vapor or as a fluid through the skin, the manual says. Certainly a minute quantity gives the victim a throbbing headache, but there is no evidence that even a minute quantity can be absorbed through the skin. Inhalation accounts for the poisoning.

"Now here is the one poison in the whole long list which is absorbed through the skin alone, according to the manual. Phenyl hydrazine, a brownish pungent oily liquid used by anti-pyrim makers, dye makers, dyers, it produces dermatitis (skin inflammation), difficulty in swallowing, malaise, diarrhea, grave blood degeneration. Note that it is pungent—volatile. Why assume it has to enter through the skin, with the easier mode of entrance so handy?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Sulphur Fumes and Dried Fruit.

Kindly advise regarding the effect of sulphur in dried fruit. (A. W.)

Answer.—Fruit may be dried or evaporated and will keep well without the use of sulphur fumes. The purpose of exposing the fruit to sulphur fumes is bleaching and prevention of decay. Fruit dried in the sun or evaporated by artificial methods without the use of sulphur may not look so white, but should be preferred as the more wholesome, for the frequent eating of sulphurous acid even in minute quantities probably tends to break down red corpuscles and otherwise injure the health. It is an abnormal or artificial taste, unwisely cultivated, to prefer bleached food instead of the natural article. (Copyright, National Newspaper Service.)

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.

Friday, Dec. 1, 1899.

Lawrence university football team met its fourth defeat of the season yesterday by losing to the Milwaukee Medics. The score was 17 to 12.

Union Thanksgiving services at the Methodist church the previous day, at which the Rev. John McCoy preached, brought an offering of $24.39. The money was given to the Ladies' Aid society.

Mrs. Catherine Brady died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Morrison, of Stevens Point. She was 82 years of age.

The new library building and city hall was being plastered and the windows were being put in place.

John S. Nortwick and family wrote Appleton friends that they had arrived at London.

John Bahr was planning to move the offices of the Great East and Mississippi Canal Co. from their present location over Kamp and Sacksteder's drug store to the rear of the old Manufacturers' bank building.

The entertainment given at St. Joseph hall last night by the athletic section of St. Aloysius society was to be repeated next evening due to rainy weather and a small attendance at the first showing.

TEN YEARS AGO.

Friday, Nov. 27, 1914.

The City Relief society received $26.82 for charity work representing the offering received at the Union Thanksgiving services at Memorial Presbyterian church the day previous. The Rev. William Pearce preached the sermon.

H. W. Tuttrup of the city commission was to welcome the delegates to the seventh annual convention of the Fox River Valley Library association to be held here this coming Wednesday.

John Strange of Xenia publicly announced an offer to build a $10,000 bridge at Menasha if that city would vote dry in the coming election.

One hundred thirty-three players took part in the Appleton Skat club tournament the previous day.

A daughter was born the previous evening to Mr. and Mrs. John Fries, Appleton.

Miss Lola Thom, who was attending Milwaukee-Dowder college at Milwaukee, was spending Thanksgiving holidays with her parents.

Among the weddings taking place Thanksgiving day were those of Miss Margaret Parsons and John Jarchow, both of this city; Miss Lillian Schultz and Carl Gerlach, both of Appleton; Miss Gertrude Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Schmidt, and Frank Van Handia; Miss Ethel Goshie and Theodore McDonald.

Heroic Patients
Faced Doctors
Of Olden Days

(From The Medical Journal and Record.)

Superstition notoriously dies hard and many of the marvelous remedies devised in days gone by for the ills to which men are heir are still used by the simple minded in many out of the way parts of the country.

Some of these remedies are quite of the heroic variety and require a good deal of courage on the part of the sufferer to undergo. However, as one of these treatments is recommended, for that insufferable ailment, toothache, perhaps wonder at the pluck displayed will be modified when it is taken into consideration that the superstitious family believed in the vaunted cures.

The sympathetic cure advocated in a book entitled Chances and Experimental Receipts in Physick and Chirurgery and published in 1665 is as follows: "With an iron nail raise and cut the gum from about the tooth till it bleed and that some of the blood stick upon the nail; then drive it into a wooden beam up to the head; after that is done you shall never have the toothache in all your life."

Among the many alleged cures for rheumatism, feelingly referred to by Augustus Birrell as "that worst of all the ills," are these: In Holland it is believed that a potato begged or stolen is a preventive, while in certain parts of Northamptonshire it is still held that the right forefoot of a hare kept constantly in the pocket is an efficacious remedy.

The tale goes that some years ago a servant in an old world district of England was found to have been confined three times and on being questioned said that she had discovered that confirmation was the most efficacious mode of treating rheumatism.

The curing of smallpox in the middle ages, according to ancient chronicles, presented no difficulties. John of Gaddesden, physician to the court of Edward II of England, adopted the simple expedient of wrapping his patient in red cloth. These are his directions: "Let scarlet red be taken and let him who is suffering smallpox be entirely wrapped in it, or in some other red cloth; I did this when the son of the illustrious king of England suffered from smallpox. I took care that all about his bed should be red and cure succeeded very well."

Yanks Stingy
In Use Of Words

(From The Pittsburgh Sun.)

According to one authority the average business man has a vocabulary of not more than 3,000 words. By that, of course, is meant that such a person does not make use of more than that number of words in his conversation and correspondence. He is familiar with thousands of other words which he encounters in literature, but either has no occasion to make use of them himself or is restrained by dislike of appearing pedantic.

While terseness and simplicity are desirable in language, these qualities will not be sacrificed by the extension of the vocabulary. Force and elegance are also desirable qualities, and frequently they may be obtained by using substitutes for the words ordinarily employed. Most of us are too much given to using words conveying in a general way the meaning which we desire to express. It would be better if we made greater use of synonyms if we expressed our thoughts more exactly.

There are not so many words in the French language as in English, but the average Frenchman is said to use more than the average English-speaking person. He cares more than we

Q. Are there any race horses now living that are related to Hamiltonian 10? D. H.

A. There is not a present day trotter or pacer of any importance that does not trace to Hamiltonian 10, as no less than 138 of his sons have become producers of speed, as have over 100 of his daughters.

Q. Is the President officially notified of his election? C. A. S.

A. The White House says that a President-elect is not officially notified of his election.

Q. How many pieces of mail reach the Dead Letter Office? A. M. G.

A. It receives about 16,000,000 dead letters and parcels a year, and 9,000,000 post-cards and postals. The loss to the general public through the careless directing of such matter, is about one-half a million dollars annually.

No letters or packages are sent to the Dead Letter Office until they have been given a directory service at the post-office to which they are addressed, and all available methods to locate the addressees have been exhausted.

Q. Are there many bazars in Tehuacan, Mexico? W. B. T.

A. There are approximately 28 miles of bazars in the Persian capital.

Q. Can you tell me the number of railway cars in which the Armistice was signed? S. A. T.

A. Car number 241BD was the one to which you refer. Negotiations were conducted in the woods near Rheims station.

Q. What do Georgians call themselves? C. W.

A. The Georgians, (also called Kartlians) call themselves Kartvelian.

The name "Georgian" is applied because the people so-called live in Georgia. This word is used in Europe except by the Russians who call this section of the world Georgia.

Q. Why did the Scottish people adopt plaids for their dress? A. M.

A. Authorities who have studied the subject carefully are of the opinion that the use of the tartan or plaid in the Scottish Highlands seems to have been beyond the reach of history. The plaid is a development of the check which is a very ancient pattern and was especially popular in ancient Egypt as a motive of decoration. The check and its later adaptation became popular with a great many of the ancient races of Europe, notably the Celts. The Scotch highlanders are a remnant of the Celts and to these early peoples color in dress was in important element. The higher their rank the greater the variety of colors permitted them. As far back as 380 B. C. Livy and Vergil state that "these strangers" (referring to the Celts) "appeared in flaming tartan garb." One writer on the subject is of the opinion that the plaid may be indirectly connected with Joseph's coat of many colors.

Q. What artificial porcelain survives the attempt to imitate Chinese porcelain? C. B.

A. The English bone china is the only artificial porcelain that survives.

Q. What is meant by the glacial period? E. G.

A. The glacial age or period is a division of geological time comprising the earliest part of the quaternary period. At this time the temperature was essentially arctic and with in the continental areas enormous sheets and sheets of ice then formed, advanced southward, filling the rivers and lake basins, covering the mountains and burying the lowland beneath a vast sea of ice.

Q. Is granite always gray colored? A. L. M.

A. Granite is usually some shade of gray, but pink and red are not uncommon colors.

Q. What is the largest city in the West Indies? C. G.

A. Havana, the capital of Cuba, is the largest city in the West Indies.

Zinc and Copper Banish Rheumatism

Remarkable New Discovery Proving Boon to Thousands

Memphis, Tenn.—Application for patent covering what is considered to be the most unique discovery of its kind has just been made by the Eureka Manufacturing Co., Dept. H. O., 253 Jefferson-Ave., Memphis, Tenn. After years of experiment they discovered that an especially constructed chemically treated set of heel plates, one zinc and one copper, placed in the shoes of the sufferer, will by a scientific process, quickly rid the wearer of rheumatic pain, sciatica and stiff joints as well as tone up the system in general. Experiments in hundreds of cases have proved this discovery to be a boon to all sufferers of the above ailments, especially as it eliminates the use of medicine which, in many instances, proves to be of only temporary value. They are anxious to prove their statements by sending any sufferer of rheumatism a special liberal trial offer. Write them today.

KAUKAUNA NEWS

Melvin Trams Telephone 329-J
Kaukauna RepresentativeACTORS WELL CAST IN PLAY GIVEN BY CHURCH SOCIETY"Prince in Rags" Witnessed by 350 Persons Thursday Night

Kaukauna—An audience of about 350 people witnessed the second public performance of the four act comedy drama "The Prince in Rags" presented Thursday evening in the auditorium under the auspices of the Young Ladies Society of Holy Cross church. The first presentation of the play was for school children Wednesday afternoon. The production will be staged again Friday evening.

Richard Krantz of Menasha, who directed the show and took the leading role, that of the prince in rags, Gerald Weston, was supported by a group of the best local actors who in this case took their parts in an especially capable way.

Good acting was the biggest feature of the show. Miss Dorothy Van Lieshout, as Miss France, the heroine, and a disputed possession, was well selected for her part. Fred Mueller as Jack Worthing, who loved Miss France and finally won her, made a good leading man. The nature of Harold Derrus's role as James B. Derrus, nephew of Miss France's supposed father, was somewhat unexpected by the audience. Mr. Derrus, who has taken parts as the hero character in many home talent plays, appeared in this production as a black villain plotting ways of winning the hand of Miss France and the good nature of her father. The villain's usual nature, sneering and with out regard or mercy for anything but his own interests but praying and pleading like a whipped cur when cornered in his own trap, was very well portrayed by Derrus.

Other roles also were well handled. Miss Hortense Berens as Mrs. Lee and Archie Chivers as Colonel Lee, a rich southern planter. Miss Mary both Derrus as Sadie, the maid, all added in the success of the play by fine acting.

Mr. Krantz as the prince in rags while acting as the man about whom most of the action revolved, injected plenty of humor into the play. He took the part of a tramp and an escaped convict who was forced by Blackburn to do the villain's dirty work in his efforts to prevent Miss France's marriage to Mr. Worthing.

The question of Miss France's real parentage was the basis for the plot, and the tramp who was forced by circumstances to turn up as the villain finally discovered that the girl was really his daughter.

Speeches by Miss Sylvia Nield, a quartet composed of Hildegaard and Bernice, Werschm, Correll, Gullin, and presented violin and vocal selections and Mr. Krantz also appeared between acts.

MISS HOOLIHAN BECOMES
BRIDE OF GEORGE DEGOT

Kaukauna—The marriage of Miss Florence Hoolihan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hoolihan to George F. Degot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Degot took place at 8 o'clock Thursday morning in St. Mary church, the Rev. Conrad Rupp officiating. The couple was attended by Miss Clara Hoolihan, sister of the bride, and Dr. A. J. Degot of Kenosha, brother of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, 202 Sixth-st., for about 30 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Degot left Thursday afternoon on a wedding trip to Milwaukee and Chicago and will be at home after Jan. 1, 1925 at 214 Main-ave.

Out of town guests who attended the wedding were:

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hoolihan, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hoolihan, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Woller and Miss Harriet LeGrand of Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Julius Behrendt and family, Marinette; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Janney, Two Rivers and Dr. A. J. Degot, Kenosha.

ROTARIANS AGREE TO FINANCE SCOUT
WORK IN KAUKAUNAKeicher's Talk at Luncheon
Followed by Resolution to Act

Kaukauna—An outline of the program planned by the valley Boy Scout council and the suggestion that Kaukauna has not yet raised its quota of $500 as its share of the council's expenses, was explained in a talk before the Rotary club at its luncheon Wednesday noon by P. O. Keicher, Appleton, executive secretary of the council.

The Rotary club decided to act on scout matter and the board of directors was authorized to appoint a committee to see that a drive is started. The directors later selected W. F. Ashe to choose a committee of citizens to do the work.

As yet no action toward development of the scout movement in harmony with the valley council has been started in this city. One troop under the auspices of the Methodist church and with E. M. Charlesworth, Jr., as scoutmaster has been the only part of Kaukauna's once strong scouting organization which has survived.

It was brought out at the Rotary meeting that one of the greatest drawbacks in the progress of the local movement is the lack of young men who will offer their services during their spare time as leaders of the boys. If only a few would seek training to become qualified leaders, little difficulty would be experienced in forming a strong center in this city, it was said. There are plenty of boys and in the past many have been brought together but interest soon waned when no definite program of work or activity was started.

36 PUPILS GET ON
SCHOOL HONOR ROLLVocational School Students
Neither Absent or Tardy
During Month

Kaukauna—The honor roll for attendance in Kaukauna Vocational school for October has been completed by the office secretary. The report contains the names of 36 students who attended school every day during the month. Twenty-two others were absent or tardy only once or twice also are mentioned.

During October two classes in the Vocational evening school had 100 per cent attendance. Mrs. Edith Porterfield's bookkeeping class of six members and Miss Maud McGinty's Thursday evening basket weaving class of eight members earned the honor. The bookkeeping class consists of Edward Reimer, Elizabeth Jacoby, Clara Michalek, Selma Wiggers, William Franquette, Armond Licht, Gladys Webster. Those in the basket weaving class who were present at all sessions were Louise and Alma Milz, Mrs. John Adams, Doris Kauterbocher, Helen Arps, Mrs. Eva Vandenberg, Mrs. Peter VanDyke, Genevieve Frank and Mrs. Stanley Lizon.

The honor roll for the day school includes Lawrence Kroll, Jean Verhaegh, Joseph Saelens, Arthur Naad, Clarence Smith, Arthur Wiedenhaupf, Arthur Gorham, Ambrose Hietz, Harold Jacobson, Russell Taylor, Lorraine Peters, Leone Rabideau, Catherine Pahl, Alice Pahl, Orel Robbison, Harold Glessers, Henry May, Norman Kessler, Oliver Bevan, Eugene Schmidt, Henry Buchberger, Eugene Danner, Emma Walter, James Schlude, Otto Riehm, Marie Dolven, Harriet Berkers, Loreto Fu, Anne Gillen, part time.

The half time students are Hugo Wenzel, Marie Bauer, Viola Mitchell, Leche Schuman, Monna Wright and Odella Vandenberg.

H. S. STUDENTS GIVE
THANKSGIVING PROGRAM

Kaukauna—General assembly held in the high school Wednesday morning was devoted to presentation of a Thanksgiving program. The program was held in the auditorium so students from both sexes could attend. Leo Schmidt was chairman. Two numbers by the girls' glee club opened the program. It was the first public appearance of the club.

Edna Thigmon and Mildred Sager, representing the girls, spoke for the seniors. Leon Van Lieshout represented the juniors. Elizabeth Derrus spoke for the sophomores and Helmar Newton and Van Dreck St. Mitchell spoke for the freshmen. A Lutheran version of Miss Schmidt was given by Catherine May and two songs by Violet Rodman closed the program.

MONDAY MORNING
NEWS IS NAME OF
H. S. WEEKLY PAPERPublication Will Make Its First Appearance on Monday
Dec. 8

New London—The Monday Morning News will be the name of New London high school's weekly newspaper, which will be issued for the first time on Monday, Dec. 8. The name was picked this week from a list of 37 by a committee composed of three members of the high school faculty, Robert Stone, Miss Charlotte Hain and Frances Correy. It was the suggestion of Thomas Polley, a sophomore in high school who will receive a free subscription for the winning name.

The following names were turned over to the committee: Red and White Herald, Red and White Chronicle, Red and White Progress, Progress, No. 10, New London Success, Echo, New London's Independent, High School Journal, New London High School Weekly, High School Gazette, New London High School Paper, New London Reporter, Excelsior, High School Weekly News, New London High School Weekly, Broadcast, Weekly Student's Special, High School Weekly, Red and White, High School Gazette, Student's Friend, Squealer.

High School Weekly News, School and Community, Morning Morning News, High School News, School Events Weekly, Rain or Shine News, Junior Tribune, High School Tell-Tale News, New London High School Tribune, Spirit, Journal Junior, Students Gazette, High School Sentinel, and Students' Message.

Almost all of the high school students have subscribed to the Monday Morning News at the rate of a $50 cent for the balance of the year. Only six seniors, eight juniors, eight sophomores and twenty-six freshmen have not deemed it worthwhile to boost the official organ of the school. The subscription payments are due between now and the close of school. All of the advertising has been taken up by local merchants and no one has been visited that it may be necessary to add an extra page to accommodate all of the business men of the city.

Shirley Bowman and Glover Burroughs were each given a free subscription for being the first two high school students to pay for their year's subscription to the paper.

ATL STUDENTS WRITING
The initial appearance of the Monday Morning News will be on Monday morning, Dec. 8. The high school students are all writing material for the first edition and the staff is striving industrially to have everything in readiness when the paper goes to press on Saturday, Nov. 29.

One of the special features is an opinion section, giving the readers an opinion and location of all available on personal letters of the alumni from time to time. George Rosentreter, alumni editor, is planning to send letters to all the alumni of whom he can obtain addresses next week.

The athletic section, under the direction of Russell Rumenoff, athletic editor, will also be of great interest, inasmuch as it will provide a complete report on all high school athletics.

HIGH SCHOOL HONOR
ROLL IS ANNOUNCEDSome Students Establish High Marks for Six Weeks Period Just Ended

Kaukauna—High school students who earned a position on the honor roll for the second six weeks' period by virtue of their good work established some unusually high marks. Students who are on the first honor roll are those who received a special merit on their report cards. Only one student was as high as 91 per cent, three received an average of 87 per cent while Dorothy Haines and Robert Bates, juniors, touched the 86 per cent mark.

Those who received special merit were Harold Peters, senior; Lillian Alwardt, Dorothy Haas, Ila Hill, George Orla, Alice Olson, Robert Truch, junior; Audrey Ma, Laura S. Hub, sophomore; Gretchen Dries, Lucile Hays and Anna Mae, freshmen.

A second honor roll for students who were below 80 in one subject but whose general average brought them over the mark contained 21 names. They were: K. E. Peter, Norman, Harold, Armond Licht, Josephine Jones, Marion Vandenberg, Lorraine Redder, senior; Elva Sager, Cathrine Mayer, Lucile Tornow, juniors; Charva Berthel A. Boman, Lillian Collins, Kathryn Conner, Gertrude Sullivan, Valley Vandenberg, Odella Wolf, sophomores; Louella Hietz, Mildred Hays, Mildred Hietz, Lillian Schmidt, and Vauline St. Mitchell, freshmen.

KERMIT HART ATTENDS
FLORIDA UNIVERSITY

Special to Post-Crescent

New London—An interesting letter was received by New London high school from one of the school's old "grads," Kermit Hart, now of Tampa, Fla.

Kermit Hart graduated in 1920 and had made his home in this city until two years ago, when he left for Florida, to reside with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. George Alwardt and daughter Lillian, spent Thanksgiving day with relatives in Fort Washington, Pa.

Mr. Hart also sent a letter to troop 2 of the local council of the boy scouts, making inquiries concerning the troop.

New London—The Carr library, which was left by the late Mrs. C. F. Carr of this city to the New London public library, is expected to be transferred to the city library sometime this week. The library contains about 1,000 volumes and is valued at several thousand dollars. Besides the books, a great number of curio and museum specimens were given to the library, and also money and real estate valued at about $15,000. This money will go towards building an addition onto the public library, as an addition has been found necessary to house the gifts. The library board, of which Dr. G. T. Dawley is president, is in favor of building an addition as soon as the will is probated, and has authorized Dr. Dawley to cooperate in every respect with the executor of the will, H. Ritchie, of this city. The board has also expressed its appreciation of the gift, which would be almost priceless if it were necessary to buy it.

The Carr library, which is chiefly composed of books relating to nature study and travel, was given under the condition that none of the books should ever leave the library, but should be used for reference books only.

FIRE ONCE OUT
GETS NEW STARTDepartment Is Called Twice to Jost Farm—Shed and
Granary Are Burned

New London—The fire department was called to the Jost farm, 1 mile north of this city, at 10:45 Wednesday morning. The fire, origin of which has not been accounted for, destroyed a machine shed and granary, causing damage estimated at $1,500. The farm is owned by E. C. Jost of this city and is rented out to tenants who reside on it. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

The department was called back to the Jost farm at 10 o'clock Wednesday night, due to the fact that high winds had fanned the debris into flames again, endangering other buildings. The fire was put out this time, the department working until morning.

FEW ACCIDENTS ON MENASHA STREETS
IN SPITE OF ICE

Thanksgiving Day Passed Without Excitement in Twin Cities

Menasha—That Menasha drivers are careful was evidenced by the small number of automobiles in garages Friday morning for repairs. Three automobiles were in a mixup on Thanksgiving day at the corner of Third and DePere streets but no one was injured. One of the automobiles, a Jordan, smashed one of its wheels. A team attached to a load of cinders had a difficult time crossing one of the bridges on Commercial street Friday morning. One of the horses got down, delaying an interurban car for several minutes and tying up traffic generally. The conductor distributed a pall of sand under the animal so that it could get a foothold to regain its feet.

FRANK MIX, AGED MENASHA
MAN, DIES AT HIS HOME

Menasha—Frank Mix, 74, died Wednesday morning at his home on Racine-st. He is survived by eight children, John, Manitowish, Joseph, two Rivers, Frank, Jr., South Dakota; Mrs. Alfred Fischer, Olchib, S. D.; Sister M. Irene, Plover; Mrs. Frank Jankowski, Clam, Wis.; Mrs. M. Mix, Menasha. The funeral will be held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at St. John church with burial in St. John cemetery.

SOCIAL ITEMS
AT MENASHA

Menasha—Sacred Heart Mission club was entertained Tuesday evening by Miss Aurelia Pippel at her home on Chestnut-st. The regular business meeting was held after which buncos was played. Honors were won by Miss Elizabeth Pach.

Menasha—More than 80 couples attended the dance Thursday evening given by the Elks. The Oriental orchestra of Oshkosh furnished the music. The party was in charge of C. D. Warner, chairman of the social committee.

The Young Ladies Sodality of St. John church gave a card party Thursday evening at the school hall. Thirty-six tables were engaged in play. The prize winners were Schafkopf—Mrs. Felix Zuchowski, Mr. Zemlock, Stephen Krystak; whist, Miss Anna Heldman, Mrs. McQuinn, Miss Esther Zuchowski; rummy, Miss Margaret Spilski, Michael Pozolinski and Alex Konkol. The party was under direction of Miss Hattie Jedwabny.

SAVERS GET MONEY THEY STORED FOR CHRISTMAS Menasha—The First National bank paid out the amounts due members of its Christmas club on Saturday and has commenced receiving deposits for the next year's club. The bank of Menasha will commence paying due

TWO BANKS REQUEST
REFUND OF TAXES

Menasha—At the adjourned meeting of the common council Tuesday evening, the First National bank presented a petition asking for a refund of $4,510 tax paid under protest on its bank stock last February. The Bank of Menasha presented similar petition for more than $3,000 at a previous meeting. The construction of a new drawbridge on Tayco-st was discussed by Mayor N. G. Hennell, who said he would favor placing in the 1925 budget a sum sufficient to pay the cost of the preliminary work. He said also he would favor the payment of the $32,000 waterworks bonds due next year.

I team, will be next Wednesday night when it will meet the Basing sports of Appleton. This game promises to be one of the best on the Co. I schedule. The Appleton five is one of the strongest in the state. The members of the Christmas club on Wednesday, Dec. 3, lunch club, chose a different membership as well as

CO. I OPENS ITS SEASON WITH WIN
OVER OSHKOSH FIVE

Military Cagers Chalk Up 25 to 18 Victory in First Start

Neenah—Co. I is represented in the basketball fold this season by one of the best teams that has ever graced the company banner. This was demonstrated in the armory Thursday night when the season was opened with a game with the Rio Phil aggregation of Oshkosh. It was a neat exhibition of basketball before a crowd that filled the building. Co. I won, 25 to 18.

(Opposite the company five was Oshkosh's pride composed of players who have appeared on the armory floor for many seasons but who apparently have not lost their knowledge of the game. Referee Edgar Jones, blew the starting whistle at 8:30 and from that time it was nip and tuck. Wilson, Oshkosh, was the first to score but who never got another chance, on long shots as his guard, Chapelle, was on his heels at every turn. Following with a free throw, Wilson gave the Oshkosh boys a three-point lead right off the start. Not many seconds later, Chapelle registered a point with a free throw and in the next mixup was followed by a basket by Madsen. Christoph got his eye on the ring and placed a neat one through followed by H. Kuehl. Madsen and Chapelle who placed well aimed shots which put the score to 10 and 5 at the end of the first quarter.

The next quarter favored Oshkosh as Johnson and Wilson made things exciting by placing two baskets each, the half ending 15 to 13 in Oshkosh's favor. During this quarter, N. Kuehl replaced A. Kuehl and Craeven took the place of H. Kuehl. The first quarter of the last half started with a rush. The playing during this period was the fastest of the entire game with the exception of the last two minutes during which Craeven fell against Wilson's knee and broke his cheekbone. A Kuehl went back into the game. During the last half, the score was so close that a basket either way would have put a team in the lead, but the close playing of the Co. I made the task of getting near the basket difficult for the visitors, and they forged ahead with several of Madsen's long tries and the excellent guarding of the rest of the squad.

As a curtain raiser, the Trinity Lutheran team, composed of Brendedick, Gaertner, Mielke, W. Kuehl, Becker and Koerwitz, defeated the Methodist team, Larson, Olson, Rutherford, Schlegenhaut, Parker and St. Louis, by a score of 20 to 7. Dancing followed the games with music by the Meliorimba orchestra.

Neenah Society

Neenah—The third number on the Neenah Eagle social calendar took place at their hall Thursday evening. It was a Thanksgiving ball, which was well attended. The Aerial orchestra furnished music.

Final arrangements have been made for the bazaar to be given by the Knights of Pythias lodge at the hall beginning Dec. 3 and continuing to Dec. 5. This lodge gave a Thanksgiving ball on Wednesday evening.

Miss Helen Haertl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Haertl, Sherry-st, has been pledged to the Sigma Alpha feta sorority at Lawrence college.

AUDIENCE PLEASED WITH K. C. DRAMA

Neenah—As has been the verdict after each play, the performance given by the dramatic club of the Knights of Columbus in Neenah theatre on Wednesday evening was a complete success. The play, "The Right Road," was presented to a capacity house. The characters were in the hands of such well known young people as T. E. McGilgan, director, Miss Melcher, Miss Tuschschere, Miss Horkman, Miss Loescher, Mr. Murphy, Mr. Landgraf, Mr. Powers, Mr. Sues, Mr. Fairbach and Mr. Schmalz, who have been successful in all the plays put on by this organization. An organ recital was given before the play by George Pollock.

THANKSGIVING DAY
SERVICES WELL ATTENDED

Neenah—Thanksgiving day passed off very quietly in Neenah, with no accidents, fires or anything to mar the day outside of the first real snowstorm of the season. Special services were held in the churches and a union service with five churches participating was held in the Memorial Baptist church. All of the services were largely attended. Several automobile accidents caused by the slippery streets, kept the repair men busy.

SIDEWALK GRATING FALLS ON DRUG STORE EMPLOYE

Neenah—Forest Oehlke, employed at the Barnett drugstore, was painfully but not seriously injured Wednesday afternoon, when an iron grating in the sidewalk over a cellar window fell upon him while he was at work below. Cuts necessitating several stitches resulted.

Dance, Waverly, Friday.

ELKS MEMORIAL TO BE HELD ON DEC. 7

Neenah—Dec. 7 has been designated by the Neenah-Menasha Elk lodge as memorial day. Special services will be held in St. Thomas Episcopal church in the afternoon. A program is being arranged for the occasion. Since the last memorial service, a year ago, six members have died, Edward Hart, Benjamin Kahn, E. C. Bhargott, Thomas Kelly, Frederick Loescher and A. A. Hauser.

TWIN CITIES COUPLE
MARRIED AT WAUKEGAN

Neenah—Leon A. Zick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold Zick, Cherry-st, Neenah and Miss Jeanette Finch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Finch, Second-st, Menasha, were married on Wednesday at Waukegan, Ill., according to word received by the bride's parents Friday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Zick will spend a few days with relatives in Racine after which they will be at home at 810 Second-st, Menasha. Mr. Zick has a position with the Cellucotton Products Co. here.

ROBINSON PAIR
FREED BY JURY

London—The jury in the Robinson conspiracy suit involving an unnamed Indian prince rendered a verdict Friday afternoon finding that a conspiracy had existed to extort money from the prince, known as "Mr. A", but that Robinson and Mrs. Robinson were not parties to it. The jury also found that "Mr. A" was induced to part with two checks for 150,000 pounds each through such fear and alarm that his mind was unsettled and that the act was not free and voluntary. After these findings the jury again retired to consider further questions put to it by Justice Darling, the presiding judge.

MASONIC TEMPLE DOORS ARE OPENED TO PUBLIC TODAY

People Have Last Chance to See Temple Tonight—Dedicate Building Saturday

Ceremonies in connection with the opening and dedication of the new Masonic temple began Friday afternoon with open house to the public and other fraternal organizations of the city. Many persons viewed the interior of the building during the afternoon and a throng was expected in the evening. The temple will be open from 7 to 10 o'clock Friday evening for those who did not see it in the afternoon and Masons will escort the visitors through.

Favorable weather Saturday will bring hundreds of Masons here from neighboring cities to take part in the private lodge ceremonies the dedication at 8 o'clock, the dinner at 9 o'clock and the ball in the evening. The dedication will be a closed lodge session with only members of the lodge admitted. A program will be in progress at the same hour in the social hall for women.

The dinner and ball which follow will be informal. Those eligible to attend are master Masons and adult members of their families, members of the Eastern Star, White Shrine and DeMolay and their husbands or escorts.

MASON FORGOT TO RUN CHIMNEY THROUGH ROOF

Owing to a mistaken conception of a chimney, a fire started on Wednesday in the home of Thomas Hearden, 663 Benken. The family had moved into the building only recently and was not aware that one of the chimneys had been cut off and did not extend through the roof. When a fire was built the attic became filled with smoke. The building did not catch fire.

HOUSEWIVES HEADED BUTCHERS' WARNING

There was many a fowl roasting in Appleton homes on Thursday. Thanksgiving day and this fact was highly noticeable in the gas pressure in kitchen stoves. Housewives cautioned in advance by butchers put their roasts in the oven early enough in the morning to have it ready in the big American feast. Those who put off the task to the usual hour simply served a late dinner.

SON OF GODS LOSES

He lost Prince Sumi, fourth son of the Emperor Yoshihito of Japan, dashed in third and panting in the annual autumn track and field meet at the Piers School in Tokyo. The eight year old descendant of the gods causes his attendants great alarm by playing so much at strenuous foreign sports.

Meeting Called Off
Because of the absence of H. A. Pittmore, leader of the Cardinal club who is attending the state Older Boys' Conference at Kenosha, there will be no meeting of the club Friday evening.

Miss Elise Ehlike was at Winneconne Thursday to spend the holiday with her parents.

2 CARS DAMAGED, BOY HURT, IN COLLISION

Two cars were damaged and a small boy injured in a collision at Second and Richmond st. on Wednesday. A small touring car owned by Henry Simon, Route 3, Wauwau, going east on Second ave., collided with a car driven by T. A. Maass, Route 1, Appleton, which was going north on Richmond st. Mr. Simon was accompanied by his wife and three children, two of whom were children of Robert Heinritz, 847 Brewster st. Robert Heinritz, 8, was cut over the right eye by glass from the windshield. A front fender and axle of the Maass car were bent. The Simon car also was damaged.

Two sedans were damaged in a collision on Lakeshore at the end of the Lakeshore bridge at 12:20 Thursday noon. One car was driven south on the street by Willard Vanderwelden, and the other was driven in the opposite direction by Mrs. Herman Reel, 520 Terrace ave., Milwaukee. A fender of the Milwaukee car and a wheel of the other sedan were broken.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reitzner and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Gritmacher dined at Wausau for their Thanksgiving dinner.

PUPILS DRAMATIZE LONGFELLOW POEM

A dramatization of the Courtship of Miles Standish was the important feature in the assembly program presented by pupils of the seventh and eighth grades of Fourth ward schools on Wednesday. Students from the English class of the seventh grade had been working on the story for some time, and had acted it out in class. Miss Reta Verhulst, teacher of English in the two grades, selected the students who played their parts best to appear in the assembly period. Joseph Plette took the part of Miles Standish, Lily Reille was Priscilla and Delmont Bradford was John Alden.

The little play was well done, because the students forgot everything but the story and were not conscious of their own personalities. The contrast between the soldier Miles Standish, who was governor and hero of Plymouth, and the writer John Alden, whose life was that of a student, was well brought out and Priscilla was excellently impersonated.

In addition to the dramatization, the Thanksgiving rhymes written by the eighth grade English class were given for the assembly in an exercise called "Thanksgiving." Those who took part in the number were Elmer Janson, Virginia Janson, Henry Lewis, Gilbert Kettler, Dorothy Bodway, Bessie Werner, Edward Hunt, Willis Foster, Harley Cole, Dale Clifford, Viola Behrent and Elmer Beyer. The letters in the word Thanksgiving were illustrated in the rhymes.

Tail's h. members of the classes also were part of the program. Amy Dunke spoke on Why We Observe Thanksgiving Day; and Beverly Hayes gave What I am Thankful for. The assembly hour was begun and closed with songs by the entire group. The opening song was a poem "The Landing of the Pilgrims" put to music, and "America" was the closing anthem.

KLUXERS WARM UP TOWN BY BURNING CROSSES

With the temperature near the zero mark Thursday night, some of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan started to warm up things by burning five crosses in the very heart of the business section. One of the crosses was planted in a driveway near the W. C. Fish grocery store on west College ave., another was left in front of the J. D. Votet drug store at Madison st. and College ave., and the third was erected in front of the police station on the vacant lot at Onondaga and Washington st. Although the last mentioned cross was lighted at about 10:30 Thursday evening, some of the brands were still smoking at 9 o'clock Friday morning. This is the first time that five crosses have been planted in the business district of the city.

Y. M. C. A. REPORTS 1924 GOOD YEAR IN U. S., CANADA

Record for Past Season Better Than That of 1921, Late Reports Show

The Associated Press
New York, Nov. 28.—(By Associated Press.)—The Y. M. C. A. Association in the United States and Canada, reporting for the 1924 Year Book and Official Report, just issued, show the past association year to rank with, and in several important directions to exceed the record year of 1921. George B. Hodge, who has directed the collection and classification of association information for many years, says that the 1924 year book and Official Report, just issued, show the past association year to rank with, and in several important directions to exceed the record year of 1921. George B. Hodge, who has directed the collection and classification of association information for many years, says that the 1924 year book and Official Report, just issued, show the past association year to rank with, and in several important directions to exceed the record year of 1921.

The largest annual increase in membership yet recorded is shown in a gain of 9.5 per cent. The total membership of the reporting associations is 988,522, of which 244,529 are boys. A gain of 11.5 per cent to 134,977 in the number of men and boys in summering and 1.7 saving classes, and a gain of 10.4 per cent to 11,784 in the number of men under leadership instruction in physical education classes, are the features of an expanding year in the physical work of the associations. There were a total of 349,707 different men and boys in gymnasium classes, a gain of 3.1 per cent.

Marked increase in the number of men and boys affiliated with Y. M. C. A. Bible classes is reported. A total of 272,444 for the year is a gain of 24,069 or 11.5 per cent. Aggregate attendance at Bible and religious meetings reached approximately 5,549,000, an increase of 11.6 per cent.

Endowment funds increased by 8.3 per cent to $11,365,000, while the property debt increased by only 6.8 per cent. An increase of net association property to $158,521,000, 5.1 per cent in the year, indicates the volume of property additions and is believed to mark the end of the deflation period of 1922-23.

In a foreword Dr. John R. Mott, general secretary of the International Committee, Y. M. C. A., states that at the present time the Building Bureau of the committee is retained on some 75 building projects, and points to the multiplication of branch buildings both in large and middle-sized cities and the evolving of building plans and projects for cities or isolated communities of under 15,000 inhabitants. The Financial Service Bureau of the Committee, he says further, reports complains for new buildings and for clearing off building indebtedness aggregating over $14,000,000. "It is a striking fact," Dr. Mott adds, "that in spite of all criticism and other handicaps, the associations today are raising sums which before the war would have been absolutely impossible." The latest "impossibility" is $3,600,000 subscribed by St. Louis citizens of all ranks and creeds for a city wide Y. M. C. A. development program.

Most of the Y. M. C. A. work in many of the countries of Europe is an outgrowth of wartime activities. In some places the association work has been entirely transferred to national control, American secretaries acting largely in an advisory capacity. In foreign countries outside of Europe and the Near East, the 354 associations directly related to the American movement have a total membership of 135,000.

"The various local boards and national committees in many of these foreign lands," says Dr. Mott, "have achieved such strength that it may be truthfully said that the early vision which commanded us when we entered upon the foreign work, that of developing autonomous, independent, self-supporting movements, is fast being realized."

LONDON DREADS NEAR COLLAPSE OF CATHEDRAL

Commission Believes Building of Bridge Would Hasten End

London.—Despite heroic efforts being made to strengthen its fabric, evidence accumulates that St. Paul's cathedral, Sir Christopher Wren's masterpiece, is threatened with disintegration. This evidence has been obtained from a variety of sources, during the past 25 years.

The latest warning comes from the recently constituted Fine Arts Commission, which argues against the erection of a new bridge over the Thames opposite St. Paul's on the ground that the great cathedral already is threatened by heavy motor traffic, which is constantly increasing, and that any further shaking may lead to a catastrophe.

The defenders of the cathedral argue two ways. Either the new bridge would carry little traffic and so would be unnecessary, or it would carry a great deal in which case the constant vibration would endanger Wren's masterpiece, everywhere recognized as one of the finest buildings in the world.

Fears for the safety of St. Paul's first were entertained when the subways were run through the earth in close proximity to the foundations. The vibration was recognized as a menace. This menace has been steadily augmented by the constant increase in surface motor traffic which rolls past the church, and in very close proximity to it.

EDUCATION ONLY WAY TO END EYE MISHAPS, CLAIM

Report of Experts Urges Elimination of Industrial Hazards

By Associated Press

New York—The greatest possibilities for the elimination of the unnecessary eye hazards of industrial occupation lie in education, according to the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness, which has been studying the question of eye hazards over a period of two years. The committee's labors have extended into practically every industry and every state in the union, and its report is a document of 250 pages. "There should be education of the state as to its moral and economic obligations," the report declares, "education of the employer as to the ability, from his own point of view, of supplying adequate protection for the eyes of his employees; and education of the employee, particularly the old-fashioned and so-called hard-boiled employee, as to the necessity of using that protection when it is provided."

"Some states do not require even the reporting of industrial accidents. Others require such reports, but make no effort to set up safety standards of lighting and sanitation codes for the guidance or observance of their industries."

Discussing the necessity for education of the employer, the committee says: "Many employers of labor still need to be convinced that it is cheaper to prevent eye accidents than to pay for them. It is false economy to use cheap goggles, or to have a group of workmen share one pair of goggles, that the wearing of goggles or other head protection in dangerous operations should be made an absolute condition of employment. Except in comparatively few cases, the prevention of accidents is considered of secondary importance."

"The result of this situation is that for every plant doing effective safety work a hundred are shirking their responsibility. Indeed few employers are giving as serious attention to accidents—their cost, the possibility of preventing them, and the profits which can be made through such preventive work, as to the cost of labor, raw materials, and other items in the manufacturing process."

Developing the idea that it is cheaper to prevent accidents than to pay for them, the committee says:

"The report growing out of the survey of waste in industry, which was conducted by the Federated American Engineering Societies, shows an estimated loss of 155,000,000 days as the result of non-fatal accidents occurring in industry in one year. On the extremely conservative estimate of $1.50 a day as the average compensation paid to workmen for the time lost due to accidents, there is a loss to employers of $237,000,000 a year as the result of non-fatal accidents alone. It is conservatively estimated also, that eye accidents constitute 10 per cent of all non-fatal industrial accidents. On the basis of these estimates it appears that the loss to industry through eye accidents, is in excess of $23,000,000 yearly. No employer or industrial manager who is aware of these facts will question the assertion that it is cheaper to prevent eye accidents than to pay for them."

In the case of the employee, particularly the older employee, the committee points out that "it is necessary to overcome the resistance against goggles resulting from many years of working without such protection; it is necessary to overcome, in many cases, false pride and the belief that the wearing of goggles is an indication of cowardice or of approaching old age; it is necessary, most of all, to overcome the reluctance to try something new."

ARMENIA LOOKS CONFIDENTLY TO UNITED STATES

Prince of Church Admits Progress Under Soviet Regime, but Condemns Reds

By Associated Press
Etchmiadzin, Armenia — Armenia still looks hopefully to the United States to take an active part in the direction of the destinies of that land, Catholicos said to the Associated Press correspondent recently.

Although the Catholicos admitted that Armenia under the Bolshevik regime of Moscow had made considerable strides toward recovery, they condemned the European countries in unsparring terms for what they termed their abandonment and betrayal of Armenia to the Bolsheviks. "If," said they with great vigor and emotion, "we knew these countries were going to prove false to their promise to Armenia, we would not have made enemies of our near neighbors, but friends. We are now reaping the penalty of having opposed Russia, Turkey and our other neighbors during the World War. Our independence is gone, our territories are dismembered, our population is disunited, and half our people are dead."

"Was it fair, was it Christian," continued His Holiness, "for the European states to throw us to the mercies of our enemies, after we had given tens of thousands of our young men to fight for the allies? America's failure to accept the mandate for Armenia under the League of Nations was also a bitter disappointment, but all Armenians know it was due in no way to the American people, whose charity, brotherhood and generosity toward us have been manifested in a thousand different ways. We know rather that it was due to the prejudices and misgivings of professional politicians."

The Catholicos received the correspondent in the sacristy of the famous Cathedral of the Virgin. In an adjoining room were stacked scores of huge boxes and trunks containing gold chalices, ikons, candelabra, vestments and other property seized from the Church by the Moscow Soviet authorities during the famine of 1920-1921, and which were recently returned to the Catholicos by the Bolsheviks.

The Catholicos spoke with deep gratitude of the work of the American men and women engaged in orphanage and other relief work in Armenia for the Near East Relief organization. "If it were not for their help, we certainly would have perished," said the aged prelate. "They came to us in our hour of greatest peril and gave us generously of supplies from across the ocean. Today you will find half the population of Armenia clothed in garments contributed by your ever-charitable people."

But you must turn to our orphanage for Armenia's real measure of gratitude to the United States for its assistance. Everyone of our 50,000 parentless children is a living example of the unselfish and devoted work of your men and women in Armenia."

The Catholicos referred sorrowfully to the restrictions and difficulties imposed upon the Armenian Church by the Soviet authorities. He said Armenia was now without a single seminary in which to train its youth for the younger generation of the principles of the Christian religion. He complained that the Soviet authorities forbade religious instruction in the Armenian schools.

Discussing the present welfare of Armenian people, the Catholicos said the country was steadily making progress toward recovery, and that the health and economic outlook of the population was better than for many years. He argued, however, that Armenia could never become a real national home for the Armenians unless the districts taken from it during the war were restored.

PROUD FATHER OF FINE FAMILY TELLS OF MERITS OF FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

Mr. David J. McFaul, one of the many enthusiastic users of Father John's Medicine, says in part of his recent letter: "I am proud of my boys, they are the picture of health through taking Father John's Medicine and every body speaks of them as being nice young boys. Father John's Medicine has done us a world of good and we are seldom without it." (signed D. J. McFaul, 1505 Madison Avenue, Toronto, Ohio.)

In the same way it has been used in Mr. McFaul's family; Father John's Medicine has been successfully used for over 60 years in many other families for coughs, colds and as a body builder—no drugs.

SUE CONTRACTORS FOR FAULTY ROOF ON HIGH SCHOOL

City Asks Damages Because Roof Sagged and Steel Was Placed Upside Down

Waupaca—The City of Waupaca is suing A. E. Parkinson, Bernhard Dookendorff and Hans P. Knudson, building contractors for damages caused by the sagging of the roof of the high school assembly room after a severe snowstorm a few years ago. The board of education replaced the entire roof, also two large trusses which had been set in the construction of the building in an upside down position. The case is before a jury of six men and six women, who have listened to testimony since Monday afternoon. L. D. Smith is representing the city of Waupaca, and John J. Wood and the firm of Fisher and Cashin appearing for the defendants. The county board, unable to complete its work on Wednesday, adjourned to Friday morning. A resolution introduced Tuesday in which the people of Waupaca and vicinity are greatly interested, pertaining to the construction of a concrete highway from the city to Wisconsin Veterans Home to replace the worn out and patched up present highway. Waupaca is the only city in the county without a concrete state highway and to its limits. The amount of traffic over this one route is said to be sufficient to warrant a first class highway if for no other reason. Two business changes take place Monday, Dec. 1 on Main-st. The market operated by Charles R. McLeod and son was sold to W. P. Weisbrod and sons of Owen. Mr. Weisbrod is a brother of Charles Weisbrod of Wausau. Charles Larson and Milton Paulson will continue in the employ of the market under the new management.

Rold McLeod, junior member of McLeod & Son purchased the Driveway pool hall in Odd Fellow building. The Driveway firm will give its attention to the candy kitchen and ice cream parlor. A Driveway will conduct the business this winter without his partner, Thomas Kraszelski, who leaves the city Friday night for Washington D. C. to receive passports to Greece, sailing Thursday, Dec. 1 from New York. Mr. Kraszelski expects to return in the spring with his bride whom he will marry in Greece.

Thursday evening, Dec. 4 the annual goose supper given by the local Masonic lodge or Masons and their families will take place at Danes Home Hall. Accommodations will be arranged for several hundred. The event up to last year was a game feast but owing to the large amount of game required and the uncertainty of the supply, the change to the domestic food proves more satisfactory. Many Waupaca Masons will visit the new temple at Appleton on Friday and Saturday. The annual election of officers of the local lodge takes place Tuesday, Dec. 8.

CHEESEMAKER IS FINED; CHEESE WAS TOO MOIST

Special to Post-Crescent
Fremont — Robert Reitz, cheesemaker at Wolf Hill factory south of town, pleaded guilty in municipal court at Oshkosh, to the charge of having cheese in his possession in which moisture content was in excess of 38 per cent. He paid a fine of $25 and costs.

It was stated by Reitz that it was impossible at all times and under all conditions of the milk rested at the factory to keep an absolutely uniform moisture content. The complaint was filed by R. L. Radtke, state inspector.

WEIDENBECK-PETERSON WEDDING TAKES PLACE

New London—A pretty home wedding was celebrated at 1 o'clock Thanksgiving afternoon, when Miss Jean Weidenbeck of this city became the bride of Tracy Peterson of Madison. Miss Lucille Hetzer of New London was the bridesmaid, and Reuben Bonnell of Madison, the groom. The nuptial ceremonies were conducted by the Rev. H. P. Froelich, pastor of the congregational church of this city, at the Weidenbeck home on East Beacon-ave. A wedding dinner was served at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride. After the honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson will make their home in Madison.

ENGLISH LEAD ROOFS SELDOM NEED REPAIR

By Associated Press
London.—The leaden roofs of some of England's old churches, a heritage from medieval architecture, have to be melted down, rolled over and then replaced. The lead itself is indestructible, but it has been found that at the end of every 200 years the metal should be re-melted to give the best results as a roofing material. The lead on the famous dome of St. Paul's, however, has not been melted down since it was placed in position in 1710.

FARM RELIEF PLANS INCLUDE 4 MEASURES

Washington, D. C.—Plans for the aid of the farmer at the short session of congress are understood to include a fourfold proposition—expansive marketing, preferred railroad rates for farm products, development of the European market and easier credit for cattle raisers.

TRIP'S OFF

Chester X. Weaver, San Francisco automobile agent, wanted to get to New York in a hurry. So he wrapped himself up like an airmail package, with $715 worth of stamps on him, and waited for the mailman. Postmaster Power of San Francisco (right) weighed him in and was ready to send him eastward when a wire from postal officials in Washington stopped the trip.

FORT WORTH WINS ANNUAL CONTEST FOR BEST RAILWAY

Northern Texas Traction Co. is Awarded Charles A. Coffin Prize

Atlantic City—The Northern Texas Traction Company, of Fort Worth, Texas, recently was awarded the Charles A. Coffin prize for accomplishing more outstanding achievements than any other electric railway in the United States during the last year. The prize, consisting of $1,000 cash and a gold medal, is donated annually by the General Electric Company through the American Electric Railway Association.

The winner scored heavily in popularizing service, creating good-will and maintaining friendly relations with its employees. It also made notable accomplishments in effecting economies, improving construction, preventing accidents and financing.

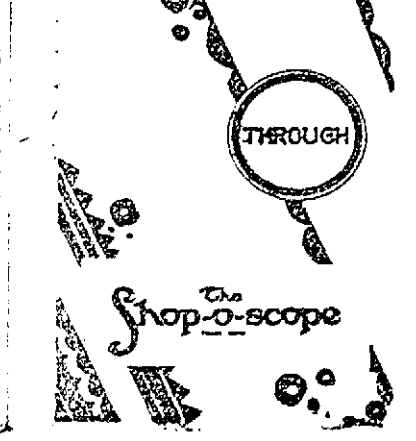

"We are always doing something in the public interest," was the succinct statement made by the company's summarizing its accomplishments.

Activity in causing the building of several hundred new homes along its lines had much to do with the company's victory. In a desire to increase traffic, particularly on short hauls, the company made a survey of all vacant lots within four blocks of its lines and found there were 24,000 of them. It then encouraged the building of homes on many of these lots.

Use of the colloquium "Howdy" also helped gain good-will. Several cars were painted white and the greeting, "Howdy, glad to see you. Ride and save the difference," was painted on the cars. The crews were supplied with special uniforms similar to those worn by racing captains.

All cars were repainted every nine months and kept scrupulously clean at all times. Company employees participate in all civic affairs. Sessions of a courtesy school are run regularly. Information cards distributed among passengers brought criticism from only 9 per cent. Strenuous efforts are made to eliminate accidents. Convinced that people would rather ride street cars than buses, the company recently supplanted a bus line with traction service and increased the receipts from $50 to $110 a day. A public celebration marked the opening of the line.

The United Railways & Electric Co., of Baltimore, and the Interstate Public Service Co., of Indianapolis were runners up in the race for the award. Fort Worth winning only by a shade. Other companies given special commendation for showings last year were: the Aurora, Elgin & Fox River Electric Co., Charleston, S. C., Consolidated Railway & Lighting Co., Memphis Street Railway Co., San Francisco-Sacramento Railroad Co., Shreveport Railway Co., and the Union Street Railway Co., New Bedford, Mass.

DANGER FROM DIRT AND WATER BARRED BY BUICK SYSTEM

Exhibit Shows Nine Vital Points Protected from Ravages of Elements

Dirt and water have the same ravaging effect on an automobile that tuberculosis has on a human being, sapping the strength and shortening the life of the vital parts of an automobile's motive plant. That it is possible to thwart these destructive elements by locking them out of every vital moving part is being demonstrated this week in the showroom of Central Motor Car Co.

The exhibit consists of a stripped chassis with ribbons and seals pointing out the nine vital points where dirt and water are kept out and lubricant is kept in by the special Buick construction. The display shows that every part of engine and transmission, from fan to rear axle, is sealed against the intrusion of road dirt and water.

The hub and bearing of the fan are completely enclosed and are equipped with a special gear pump to supply adequate and proper lubrication. The second point marked in the exhibit is the steel motor cover. This not only protects the exterior working parts of the engine from grime and dirt, but also prevents moisture from getting to the spark plugs.

The single unit Delco starter-generator permits the complete sealing of this mechanism in a single housing. This cover connects with the housing that encloses the fly-wheel and protects the starting gears and cogs both from any danger of damage or the destructive effects of the accumulation of dirt and mud and an open flywheel cannot help but gather.

Following back along the transmission system, the exhibit points out the methods by which the multiple disc clutch, transmission gears and universal joint are housed, and sealed against dirt. It also shows how the universal joint is automatically lubricated from the transmission.

Special stress is laid on the propeller shaft housing, which forms the torque tube, or third member, and through which the driving impulse is transmitted from wheels to chassis rather than through the springs. This torque tube fully encloses the propeller shaft, making it impossible for road dirt to work into either the universal joint or rear axle from the shaft. The rear axle also is completely housed.

MAXWELL READY WITH BETTER CAR

Greater Power and Greater Liability with Higher Speed Are Claimed

A new good Maxwell of greater power and power liability, higher speed, more flexibility and even greater operating economy, is announced from Detroit by the Maxwell Motor Sales Corporation.

Experiments and tests reveal that outstanding features of the new models will be a gasoline average of 25 miles to the gallon, speed of 53 miles an hour and acceleration from 5 to 25 miles in eight seconds.

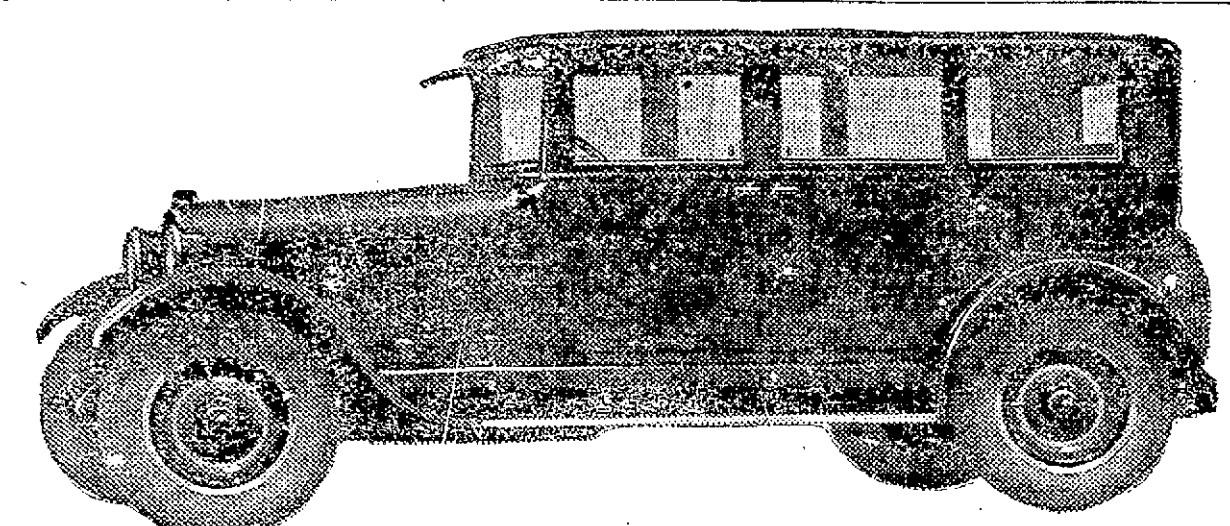

The new cars, comprising six models, are now on display in the showrooms of the St. John Motor Car Co., where special showings to the public will be held all this week.

J. E. Fields, says: "With a full sense of the seriousness of the situation, carefully weighing the meaning of every word—Maxwell-Chrysler engineers, with out reservation, thoroughly believe that they can promise in this new Maxwell a performance surpassing in every essential any other four-cylinder car in the world."

To make that sweeping assurance more definite and specific, they promise in rapid, precise, pliability of power, in swift response to every demand of vibration, and even more particularly in riding steadiness and comfort, results no four-cylinder car has yet been able to attain.

"These engineers have been actuated by the conviction that in addition to its inherent and natural economies the four-cylinder principle possessed possibilities of power and speed capable of being translated into power and steadiness never fully developed. They set out to overcome what have all too readily been accepted as limitations in the four-cylinder engine and to convert those limitations into positive advantages."

Bodies of all models, as well as the chassis, represent sweeping improvements, both in appearance and in general construction. They are lower, with lower running lines. Four-cylinder cars are standard on all models. The nickel-plated radiator is higher and wider. There is a new instrument board. One-piece windshields are on all closed models. The visors on all enclosed cars are shrouded and integral with roof, thus eliminating the irritating vibration always encountered at high speeds with the ordinary type visor on every priced model car. Duo-co is standard finish, except for the sport touring, which retains the same gray-green paint shade as heretofore used. Open cars and the coupe are finished in genuine Spanish leather upholstery, and special leather can also be had in the Club sedan. Appearance of the closed cars, particularly, is enhanced by new body improvements, with the standard sedan an outstanding illustration. Coupled with the announcement comes the information that prices remain the same as before, with the exception of the noticeable appearance, performance and economy improvements. The price of the sedan is $1,200, the sport touring, which retains the same gray-green paint shade as heretofore used. Open cars and the coupe are finished in genuine Spanish leather upholstery, and special leather can also be had in the Club sedan. Prices range from $855 for the roadster to $1345 for the sedan, L. C. D. Detroit.

CHEVROLET PLAN TO CUT FREIGHT EFFECTIVE JAN. 1

Each Assembly Plant Will Be Paralleled with Factory for Bodies

A plan by the Chevrolet Motor company in 1922 to cut down freight costs of shipments by paralleling each of their assembly plants with a factory for the Fischer Body Corporation which builds all Chevrolet closed bodies, will be completed by the first of the year when the final factory for the Fischer Body Corporation will be in operation at Tarrytown, N. Y., assembly plant.

A factory for the Fischer Body Corporation to build bodies is now in operation at six of the seven Chevrolet plants. The one at Tarrytown, N. Y. is the last to be completed.

There has been a close connection between the establishment of Chevrolet assembly plants and the gradual reduction in price of the Chevrolet car in the last five years, particularly since the Fischer Body Corporation factories have been established at each Chevrolet plant.

Chevrolet assembly plants first established at Flint, Mich., St. Louis, Mo., Tarrytown, N. Y. and Oakland, Calif. from 1917 on. In 1923 assembly plants were established by Chevrolet at Janesville, Wis., Cincinnati, O. and Buffalo, N. Y. and plans for the Fischer Body Corporation were built at these points at the same time. The year previous, however, Fischer body building plants had been established at the Chevrolet assembly plants at Flint, Mich., St. Louis, Mo. and Oakland Calif.

During this period has come about a number of reductions in the price of Chevrolet cars, due in great measure to the economies effected by such assembly plants, which included also the body building factories. From early in 1920 through 1924, a period of five years, there have been reductions in the price of the Chevrolet cars, totaling approximately 35 per cent.

In addition to the economies effected and the consequent price reductions, there has also been a steady marked improvement in the quality of the Chevrolet cars. New features have been incorporated from time to time which added to the comfort and convenience of the owner.

The new factory for the Fischer Body Corporation at Tarrytown, N. Y. has already been completed, equipped with all the machinery and tools it should be in operation at the beginning of the year.

SO-CALLED FREE SERVICE COSTLY

There is a certain magnetism in the word, "free" and a natural human gravitation in the direction of anything that appears to be free, but in spite of this it is not difficult to convince the average automobile buyer that paid service is usually preferable to so-called "free" service, according to Wolter Imp. & Auto Co. local Dodge Brothers Dealer.

"Doubtless we are helped materially," he added, "by the fact that Dodge Brothers have publicly announced repeatedly that they do not believe in so-called 'free' service. It is no simply a local policy of our own, but a principle laid down by headquarters and adhered to, I believe, by every dealer in the United States. The public has learned that Dodge Brothers conduct their business along sound lines and that anything they do benefits the purchaser as much as it does the factory."

"Consequently the man, who seems inclined to talk about 'free' service leather upholstery, and special leather can also be had in the Club sedan. Appearance of the closed cars, particularly, is enhanced by new body improvements, with the standard sedan an outstanding illustration. Coupled with the announcement comes the information that prices remain the same as before, with the exception of the noticeable appearance, performance and economy improvements. The price of the sedan is $1,200, the sport touring, which retains the same gray-green paint shade as heretofore used. Open cars and the coupe are finished in genuine Spanish leather upholstery, and special leather can also be had in the Club sedan. Prices range from $855 for the roadster to $1345 for the sedan, L. ## LATEST REO SEDAN HAS BEAUTY, POWER

A glance at the new Reo "Gold Standard Sedan" gives the impression that here is one of the most beautiful cars of the year; the closer inspection that is inevitable confirms the impression.

On the famous T-6 chassis, developed and refined to its present high degree of mechanical excellence, a veritable artist has designed an enclosed model, which for grace and modishness of line and richness of interior decoration, is unequalled.

The Reo policy of building nothing but quality cars is more clearly expressed in this model than it has ever been in the past. Critical automobile men on viewing this latest product of the Reo shops, have voted it one of the outstanding enclosed cars of the year at any price.

Reo Gray is the predominant color note in the exterior finish of the car, but there is a body belt of vivid blue that gives the two-tone effect so highly favored among fine cars these days. This color arrangement makes an impression that cannot be appreciated without actually seeing the car.

A heavily nickled radiator shell and a nickel-wired Motometer are attractive exterior details that harmonize completely with the general scheme of the car. Parking lights and head lights are drum-shaped, trimmed with just the right amount of nickel to maintain balance and prevent the car from having an "over-dressed" appearance.

Outside door handles have an ebony finish with a touch of nickel. Step plates, one below each door, are aluminum.

RACERS RELY ON WILLARD BATTERY

There is no substitute for dependability. In the operation of motor vehicles, either on land, afloat or in the air, the lives of the occupants frequently hang in a balance of dependence on the dependability of the batteries which carry the load of the engine and the machinery of the vehicle.

Where human life hangs in the balance, there is nothing that can take the place of dependability. That is why automobile racers, aviators, manufacturers of the better automobiles and marine men specify Willard batteries in their machines, according to Mr. Schroeder, local Willard battery dealer.

"For years it has been noticeable that wherever a storage battery was needed on a hard job where absolute dependability meant the winning or losing of the stakes, Willard batteries have been the unanimous choice," he says.

usually begins by saying that there must be some good reason for not giving 'free' service, or Dodge Brothers would not take such a definite stand against it.

"Whereupon it becomes a simple matter for us to explain how Dodge Brothers assumed that when a man set out to buy a car he was interested primarily in getting a good car, the most car, in fact that he could get for a given sum. What might be thrown in with the car in the way of 'free' accessories and 'free' service was of secondary consideration. In fact, these items were of such absurdly minor consequence compared with the chief objective—that of getting a car that represented real dollar-for-dollar value—that they deserved no consideration whatever."

"Having come to this conclusion, Dodge Brothers determined to base the price of their cars wholly on actual value, with a fair profit to themselves and dealers. To enable them to 'give away' accessories and 'free' service, it would be necessary to make the margin of profit on the car large enough to absorb these extra costs. That could be done only by raising the list price of the car—and this they refused to do."

"So, under Dodge Brothers policy, the buyer pays ONLY for his car. Under the so-called 'free' service policy, every owner pays a maintenance fee for the upkeep of every owner's car—and he pays this fee in advance."

"Under Dodge Brothers policy, the owner is not so penalized. He pays for fair, pre-determined price for service, but he pays only as he needs it—and he pays only for his own."

OLDSMOBILE RUNS AT MINIMUM COST

Six Cylinder Sport Touring Car Runs 9,000 Miles Without Repairs

How much does it cost to operate an automobile?

Comparatively few automobile owners have more than a vague idea regarding what their car is costing them, according to R. M. Hatfield, service manager of Olds Motor Works, and for that reason do not realize the great strides made by manufacturers in reducing car operating costs and increasing efficiency and economy.

"Low operating cost is more or less taken for granted today," said Mr. Hatfield. "Automobile owners feel that it is not worth their time to keep accurate check on costs, and this attitude in itself is a decided compliment to engineering achievements that are adding to operating economy."

"We came back over the same route in six days and four hours, and still no broken parts or replacements. In other words, we registered 5920 miles with upkeep expense of $6.50 for one front spring. Our gas mileage was not exceptional owing to the speed at which we drove. We averaged 17.6 miles per gallon of all different kinds of gasoline. Oil consumption was negligible. I have owned six cars and of the lot this is the toughest, most economical car I have had. Today, with 19,250 miles on the speedometer, I am having my valves ground for the first time."

"The long cross country trip with no serious trouble vividly brought to Mr. McAllister's mind how cheap automobile transportation has become—that he was in fact paying $1.00 for repairs for every 3,000 miles traveled," said Mr. Hatfield. "It is such occurrences as this that prove the constant development in the automobile field and why the automobile today is a national necessity."

"Of course officials of automobile companies are fully aware of every improvement that results in more mileage or a lessening of the likelihood for repairs. That is part of their business. In fact tests are constantly being made at every factory to determine just what a car will do. Many of these tests show such surprising results that they never are made public, as it is feared that it would raise doubt as to their accuracy. It is realized that these tests are made with cars kept in excellent condition and driven by experts, and for that reason, it is possible that the results could not be duplicated by every automobile owner."

"Occasionally, however, a chain of circumstances arises that brings the low cost of operating the present day automobile strikingly to the attention of an owner. One occurred recently and so impressed the owner that he wrote us regarding it. He is H. E. McAllister, of the Nilson-McAllister Manufacturing Company, Minneapolis, Minn. Mr. McAllister wrote:

"In the middle of May, this year, I bought a six cylinder Oldsmobile sport touring car and used it for 8,000 miles, covering the territory of Minnesota, Iowa, and Nebraska without an expense of one cent for worn or broken parts. At this time, it suddenly became necessary for me to take a trip to Los Angeles, with a stop off at Denver, my two partners accompanying me. We made the trip from Minneapolis to Los Angeles in five days, six hours and 40 minutes, a distance of 2,617 miles, which was approximately 500 miles per day, with only the replacement of one front spring, except for the customary tire trouble encountered while crossing the Arizona desert."

"We came back over the same route in six days and four hours, and still no broken parts or replacements. In other words, we registered 5920 miles with upkeep expense of $6.50 for one front spring. Our gas mileage was not exceptional owing to the speed at which we drove. We averaged 17.6 miles per gallon of all different kinds of gasoline. Oil consumption was negligible. I have owned six cars and of the lot this is the toughest, most economical car I have had. Today, with 19,250 miles on the speed-

BUS WORKS SEVERE ENGINEERING TEST

In fulfilling the requirements of modern motor bus transportation, automotive engineers are meeting the severest test in the history of the industry, according to L. E. Conover, general sales manager of the Pierce Arrow Motor Car Company.

"Motor buses not only must carry heavy loads swiftly and safely, but they must outwear the strain of continuous running," said Mr. Conover. "The average automobile or motor truck is in use only a few hours a day but the motor bus must keep on the go from twelve to twenty hours daily. Moreover, it is called upon to start and stop continually."

That engineering experience has successfully met these unusual conditions is proved by the many instances of almost faultless performance of the past two years.

One such instance was that of the Hudson Valley Tours, which operate a line of business along the historic Hudson River between New York and Albany. During the season just closed, each bus on this line traveled more than 26,000 miles, making the 154-mile trip daily like clockwork. The quiet six-cylinder engines developed such an excess of power that hills were surmounted in high gear easily. Brake bands were not replaced until 25,000 miles of service. Front tires outlasted the 26,000 miles of running while rear tires yielded 17,000 miles. Gasoline consumption averaged seven miles per gallon.

"The long cross country trip with no serious trouble vividly brought to Mr. McAllister's mind how cheap automobile transportation has become—that he was in fact paying $1.00 for repairs for every 3,000 miles traveled," said Mr. Hatfield. "It is such occurrences as this that prove the constant development in the automobile field and why the automobile today is a national necessity."

DICTIONARY COST NOAH WEBSTER 26 YEARS AND $30,000

Letter Written in 1823 by Author Given Out by Jersey
City Man

By Associated Press
New York—A letter written in 1823
by Noah Webster, author of the dictionary which is said to have prevented the United States from becoming a nation speaking many dialects, in which the writer refers to his plans to secure a reception for his work in England, has been given out by John Stuart Thomson of Jersey City.

The communication, which is described as hitherto unpublished, was addressed to Charles F. Webster, a cousin of Noah, and was found by Mr. Thomson among the papers of the cousin. It reads as follows:
"New Haven, Sept. 24, 1823.
"Dear Sir:
"I expected you would call upon me
the morning you left New Haven but you disappointed me and I must write what I want to say to you. You must have heard that I have been many years in compiling a complete dictionary of our language. My researches have been laborious and extensive, and I think fruitful in discoveries. As I am drawing toward the conclusion of the work, I think of going to England next summer to revise and complete the work and to try to obtain a reception of it in that country. But my resources are too scanty for such an undertaking and I want to avail myself of all my extra means. I have on hand a new book of my own publishing, entitled 'Letters to a young gentleman concerning his education,' some of which I think may be sold in Albany. The retail price is $1.75, the work being a thin octavo.
The sheet price is 90 cents and for a hundred or more I would say 80 cents.
Now, Sir, will not Webster and Skinner assist me, by taking a hundred or two, either bound or in sheets; bound hundred or more I would say 80 cents.
You will, it will very much oblige me.
"My dictionary has cost me 26 years of labor and about $30,000. If I succeed I shall reimburse myself and be able to compensate all my friends for their advances. If I should not, I shall be left in my old age with small means of subsistence.
"Please to present our kindest respects to Mrs. W. and other friends.
"Yours with affection and respect,
"N. Webster."

LONDON GETS REPLY TO ZINOVIEFF NOTE

By Associated Press
London—The Russian reply to the British note regarding the alleged Zinovieff letter and the Anglo-Russian treaty has been received in London, and it is expected that Christian Rakovsky, the soviet charge d'affaires will deliver it to the foreign office
Friday.
The text has not been published as yet, but it is understood to agree with the forecast given out early in the week, being along the lines generally anticipated by the foreign office.
A Moscow dispatch on Tuesday said that the Soviet reply to the British note probably would reiterate the demand that the authenticity of the alleged Zinovieff letter be passed upon by an arbitration committee.

250 Kids At Depot When Santa Comes

Santa Claus arrived in Appleton at 10:30 Friday morning, and was met at the train by 250 enthusiastic children, many of whom brought their mothers to meet their best friend, Santa. Santa Claus greeted them and told them he would pick up their letters at the various stores and would give them his best attention, and said that he would like to grant every Christmas wish this year, if his supply of toys held out.

A parade of four cars followed Santa who drove in a sedan supplied by H.
F. Hecker for the occasion. The parade was on Oneida street to College-ave and west to the Glendemanns-Gage store. Here the boys assembled to help Santa out of his car, and the old gentleman went about his official business.

SEEK KIDNAPER OF ELOPING GIRL

Cassopolis, Mich.—A motorist who kidnaped a Battle Creek high school girl while she was eloping to South Bend, Ind., Thursday night with her youthful fiancé, was being sought Friday by officers of southwestern Michigan and northern Indiana. The youth, John Byrd, 17, came into the sheriff's office here Friday morning and told of having accepted a ride with a stranger. The stranger, he said, offered to take him and his fiancée to South Bend when he learned they intended to go somewhere to be married.
A few miles south of here, Byrd said the motorist informed him the gasoline supply was exhausted and asked Byrd to go to a farmhouse to see if he could obtain some. When he returned to the road, the youth said, the automobile had disappeared.

HISTORIC PLACES OFFERED FOR SALE IN LONDON MARTS

Changed Social and Economic Order Brings Ancient Mansion on Market

By Associated Press
London—The changed social and economic order, which since the war has been yearly more apparent, has brought another historic mansion up on the real estate market.

This is Combe Woodhouse, in Combe Wood, once the home of Katharine Parr, a lady who achieved distinction by becoming the sixth wife of Henry VIII and undying fame
when the mutations of fate decreed that she should be the cemetery witow of a monarch among whose spouse mortality was heavy, even for the times of the Tudors.

The interior of Combe Woodhouse is charming, all the features being Tudor. There is a leather room, also a Tudor Hall, long gallery, panelling everywhere, and some old stained glass with Katharine Parr's arms on it.

Thus changes are taking place in England, the country which used to be so hostile to any interruption of the established order. Although it must not be taken as a forerunner of prohibition, it is worth noting that the

LEBANON PRIEST DIES OF ILLNESS

The Rev. Edmund Moore 30, pastor of St. Patrick Catholic church of Lebanon, a Waupacauna township located near New London, died at 4:20
Friday morning after a week's serious illness. Relatives who were summoned from his home city, Leona, Wednesday, were at his bedside.

Father Moore was taken ill last week and he developed brain fever,
pneumonia and spinal meningitis.
No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Old Castle Inn at Smalberry Green
Isleworth, a favorite haunt of Dick frequented Hounslow Heath, was not the only caller whose visits are re-

FISHERMEN LOST IN LAKE TEMPEST

Duluth, Minn.—Holmer and Ole Smurland, brothers of Escabe, Minn.,
were reported on Lake Superior Thursday night a few hours after they had started on a fishing trip. It is thought that a strong offshoot wind made it impossible for them to manage their skiff and they were carried out into the lake.

Word that the two were lost was received Thursday night by P. S.
Wick, a cousin in Duluth, advices coming from relatives at Escabe.

Duluth coast guards state that there is no coast guard station within 95 miles of Escabe, but that there are a number of fast gasoline fishing boats at Grand Marls Island, 11 miles from Escabe, and that they will be pressed into service immediately in the hunt for the fishermen.

PLANES SOON MAY JOIN GULF PORTS WITH ISLE OF CUBA

Plan Under Discussion in New Orleans Makes Project Seem Practical

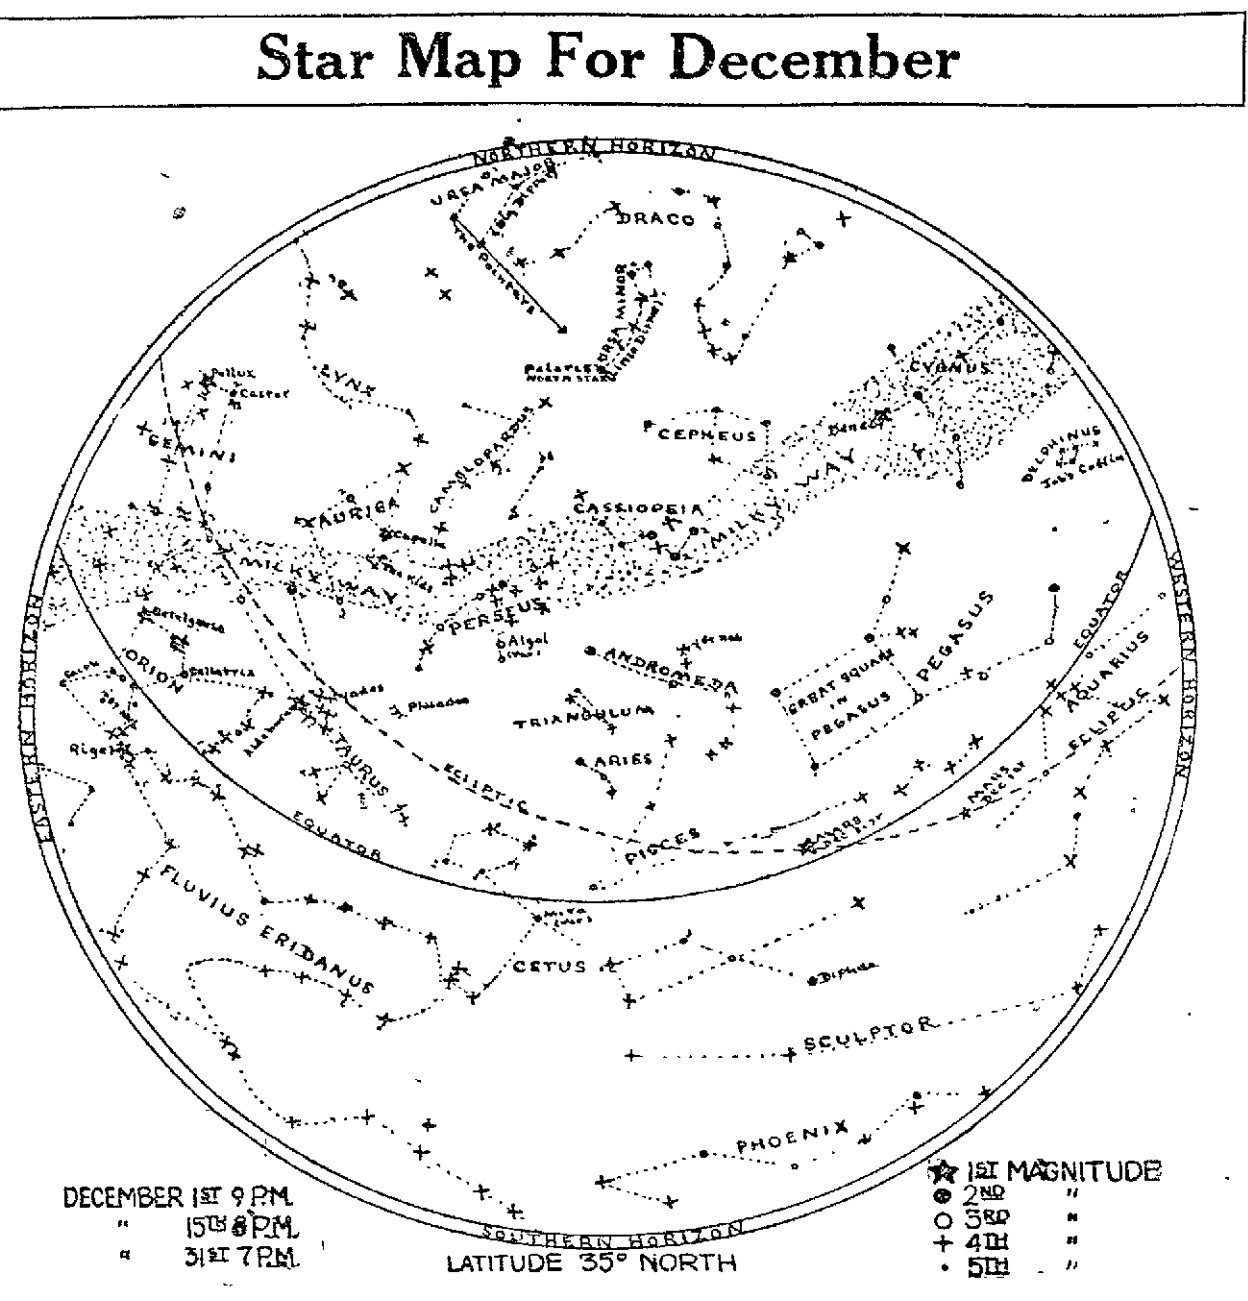

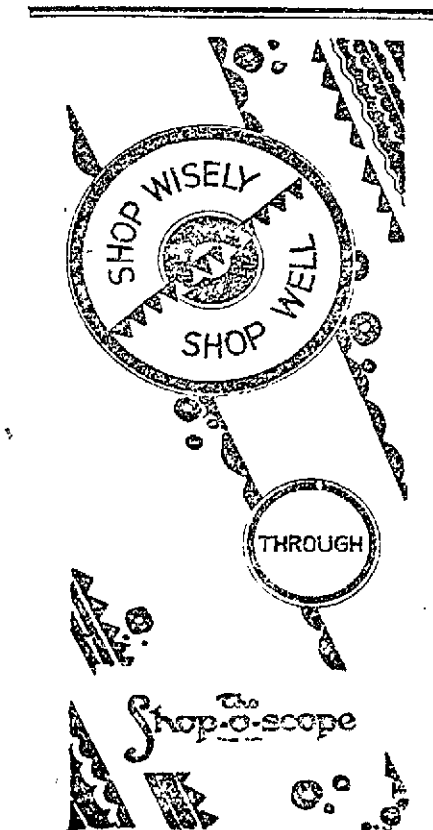

By Associated Press
New Orleans—Airplane passenger and mail service between New Orleans and Cuba and Mexican Gulf ports as a private enterprise is a subject of discussion here with many predictions that it is likely to become an accomplished fact in the not distant future. Suggested terminals would be Tampico, Mexico City via Vera Cruz, Merida, Yucatan via Progreso, and Havana. The type of seaplane believed suitable for the lines—air cruisers such as are used between Florida and Cuba and the Bahamas—could be equipped with at least two motors—could make the hop from New Orleans to Tampico, 710 miles, in about nine hours. The 500 mile jump to Mexico City via Vera Cruz would require about 14 hours. The Yucatan run of 540 miles would consume about eight hours while the 540 miles to Havana could be covered in approximately the same length of time. One of the suggestions in connection with the Tampico and Vera Cruz service involves a relay at Brownsville, Tex., with planes operating between New Orleans and Brownsville and Brownsville and the South.

Postal officials are authority for the pounds of first class mail dispatched from New Orleans to Mexican ports each week for which the government pays $2 cents a pound. Incoming mail from much of the territory is transported free of charge by the steamship companies but it is believed the United States and Mexican Governments would agree to pay $2.50 a pound for all first class mail handled by the planes should such a service be established. The revenue derived therefrom, it is estimated, virtually would support a tri-weekly service. Establishment of regular air service to Mexico recently was the subject of a conference between A. V. Drye, American commercial attaché at Mexico City, and George E. McLeod, District Manager of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Subsequently Mr. McLeod conferred with A. E. Pradillo, Foreign Trade Secretary of the New Orleans Association of Commerce. While it is understood nothing tangible resulted, it is declared the subject is in abeyance for only a short time and that the plans will be discussed more fully in the near future.

NEW PROCESS MAY SALVAGE MILLIONS

Dutch Engineering Firm Invents Machine to Remove Deep Sands

Terschelling, Holland.—A new process for salvaging sand-buried treasure of the gold cargo of the British frigate Lutina, which has baffled a century's efforts, has just been put into operation here with every promise of success. The Lutina was wrecked on a sand-bank near this island during a violent gale in the night of Oct. 17, 1799. Her crew of over 400 perished. Her cargo consisted of several million dollars worth of gold bars and specie. Fifty feet of sand covers the wreck and repeated efforts have resulted only in the recovery of about half a million dollars and the ship's bell, now at Lloyd's in London. At first divers were put to work, but later machinery was used to get at the wreck through the thick layer of sand by means of suction pumps. Now a new apparatus, invented by a Dutch engineering firm is being tried. It does away with the suction process and substitutes hydraulic pressure. A tube is driven into the sand and steel grapples at the bottom seize any object beneath it. The machine can work in any weather that is not too rough for the salvage vessel to be out. During three days that the new apparatus worked recently no gold bars were raised, but indications are certain, according to the inventory, that the right spot has been struck and hopes are entertained that the rest of the Lutina's precious cargo, estimated at between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000, soon will be wrested from Davy Jones' locker.

This map shows the heavens as they appear at 9 p. m., Dec. 1; 8 p. m., Dec. 15, and 7 p. m., Dec. 31, to an observer in 35 degrees north latitude, though a change of 5 degrees or so in latitude will make little difference in the appearance of the heavens. The map should be held inverted or overhead with top toward the north. It will be noted that insignificant constellation of Orion is now well above the eastern horizon. To the northwest of Orion appears Gemini. The Twins, containing the bright stars Castor and Pollux which, there is reason to believe, have changed in relative brightness within historic times. The planet Mars of which so much has been heard this year will be found to the south of the Great Square in Pegasus. It is now moving rapidly eastward through the constellation of Pegasus, the Fishes, and is receding from the earth and decreasing in brightness. It can easily be distinguished by its brilliant reddish color. It is by far the brightest object in the southwestern part of the heavens. No other planet is now in view at the time for which the map is given.

NEW METAL MARKERS NOW ON ALL STATE HIGHWAYS

The placing of the new metal markers on the state trunk highway system has been completed. It is announced by the state highway commission. Approximately 5,000 miles of highway have been marked this year with metal markers and it is expected the entire 10,000 mile system will be marked by the end of next year. Special brackets for marking through cities and villages are now being installed. They are designed so they can be attached to metal poles and lighting standards. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Nelson and son Carleton, Mrs. Ida N. Foster, Appleton, and Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Letts and family, Grand Chute, were guests of Mrs. L. Letts, Grand Chute, on Thanksgiving day.

New Way to Stop Night Cough

Those who have suffered the tortures of sleeplessness due to continual coughing at night, and who as a result often feel utterly worn-out and useless during the day, need no longer permit their systems to be weakened and their vitality sapped by this distressing ailment. For through a very simple treatment the trouble can be stopped almost at once, and people often get their full night's rest undisturbed after the very first trial. Here is the method: Simply get a bottle of the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery from any good drug store. Then to-night before retiring take one or two spoonfuls and hold it in your throat for 10 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. This prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and quiets the inflamed throat, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which is the real cause of the cough. So your throat is left wonderfully soothed and cleared of irritating gatherings, you can sleep soundly and restfully, and the cough is usually gone in a very short time. Dr. King's New Discovery is a remarkable remedy for coughs, chest troubles, hoarseness, sore throat, spasmodic croup, bronchitis, laryngitis and bronchial asthma. At all good drug stores.

Choose!

IT's all in your own control. Let the man at the right gasoline pump do all the cranking that your motor will need—or stand out in front of your car in the wintry blast and sample some cranking of a less enjoyable sort.

The right pump is important. Heavy fuel of too late an "initial" or igniting point costs less by the gallon but its slower firing overtakes your starter just in the short-day-and-long-night season when charging is low and lighting is at the highest peak.

The resistance is too much for the enfeebled battery. To your sorrow, you make up for the "economy" by hand cranking, recharging the battery—if it doesn't freeze—and the risk of oil dilution from too much priming and choking.

protects you from every drawback and discomfort of slow-vaporizing fuel. Because it is genuine, straight-run, real gasoline of early ignition point, it vaporizes freely, fires instantly, explodes completely—without drag on battery or need for excess priming. No kerosene or free carbon retards its instant action. No matter what other kind or lower test of fuel you have used, choose Wadham's "high".

Bleier kicked off to the Marinette 15-yard line where O. Pinegar received the ball and returned for 15 yards. Pinegar gained 2 yards on the next play and a risky punt to the 49-yard line. After his pass was grounded Courtney made 4 yards over left guard Bowley fumbled on the next play and Courtney recovered but with a slight loss Appleton was penalized 5 yards for offside. Courtney shot a long pass to Frazier who had a fair opening but he was fouled the ball and lost it after which Courtney punted to the Marinette line. The quarter ended after Voightman had failed to gain on the ball to the Orange 32 yard line. Pinegar was held without gain and Nyman made 5 yards over left guard Kresky. Pinegar and Nyman made short but consistent gains on the next five plays which carried them to Appleton's 6-yard line. Pinegar, Kresky and Voightman required four downs to carry the ball to the 1-yard line, the man to make the final play. Pinegar's placekick was blocked and the score was 25 to 6 with Marinette on top. The quarter ended after Kresky had returned Bleier's kickoff 5 yards to his own 30 yard line.

FOURTH QUARTER

Kresky made 10 yards around left end and then broke through for a 2-yard gain. Courtney punted to the Marinette's 34 yard line after Erickson had failed to gain. A Hieble returned the 40 yards. A pass Courtney to Hieble was good for 4 yards. Wenzel fumbled a pass on the next play losing Minnesota stopped Red Grange, most sensational halfback of modern times, stopped him cold and dead in his tracks.

The week before Grange had played against the slugging "cubs" of Chicago team, and had played through four full three quarters, and had a run up nobly under a steady relentless homecoming.

Unluckily, the Chicago game "softened up" Grange to a fearful extent, reduced his efficiency in every valuable degree, and rendered the Minnesota task somewhat easier than it might have been otherwise.

This business of "softening up" an athlete is not a procedure confined exclusively to the gridiron. The first operation with which a professional athlete is ringed and on his legs is "softening up."

Carpenter's experience in this country last summer represents a convincing illustration.

The story is that the day of the Illinois game McCarthy was closeted with Stagg for an hour.

What passed between the two is none but Stagg and McCarthy will probably ever know. McCarthy is the fighting type, there doesn't seem to be much sentiment in his makeup. A fellow who apparently believes solely in the survival of the fittest.

EAST BEATS WEST IN FAMILY FIGHT ON BAY GRIDIRON

Red and White Cops Seventh Straight Game from Traditional Rivals, 16 to 0

Green Bay — Green Bay East defeated West High here Thursday afternoon in their nineteenth annual battle, the final score being 16 to 0. The victory was the seventh straight East has won over its traditional rival and eleventh win of the series. All of the scoring was done by Dave Zuidmaul, sensational halfback for the Red and White who scored two touchdowns and a place kick from the 30 yard line. He was deprived of another score when East was penalized for holding after he had crossed the line.

NINTH STRAIGHT WIN

The victory was the ninth straight for East this season and leaves them undisputed champions of the Fox River valley conference for the second year in succession. They have not been defeated by a conference team since the organization of the league.

By reason of their unbroken string of victories, Green Bay East must be taken into account in state championship consideration. Included among their victims, besides West High, are Appleton, Shawano and Marinette High schools. It has scored a total of 234 points this season against their opponents' 16. Shawano and Appleton were the only schools to cross the Green Bay goal, while Shawano scored 3 points on a kick. Such strong teams as Marinette and West failed to score against East.

While it may be true Firpo has lost his touch, his punch is still very much in evidence.

Until Tom Murray of New Orleans made a record we didn't know one could get in the game fast enough to win by a shade from Packard.

Star, Rockne Claims

New York — Coach Knute Rockne, the genius of Notre Dame football, is not at all worried by the fact that he will lose a number of his best players through graduation this June.

Rockne says it isn't his custom to worry about the future. He lets that take care of itself. He believes his 1924 team is one of the greatest he ever coached and confident his 1925 model will rival it.

The famous Notre Dame mentor says he has some excellent material in the offing that will be eligible for next year's eleven. For that reason he is not at all concerned about the losing of a number of his stars from his year's team.

Rockne says that Ed Walsh, son of the famous Chicago White Sox pitcher, is a great football prospect for next year. It also might be remarked that he has the makings of a great pitcher.

Second Year Men Defeat Yearlings, 24 to 19, in Lawrence Finals

Lawrence Sophomores Wednesday afternoon defeated the Freshmen, 24 to 19, in the finals of the class basketball tournament and thereby won the college championship for 1924-1925, while the Seniors showed the Juniors into last place with a 15 to 5 win. The Freshmen landed in second place.

After the completion of the tournament, A. C. Denner, athletic director who also coaches the basketball teams, picked the following all tournament teams:

Lawrence football fans are watching the annual Army Navy battle with especial interest this year because Ed Johnson, former Lawrence star, will be in the game. Johnson is one of five Wisconsin men scheduled to start in the contest at Baltimore Saturday. Two of the boys, one of them Johnson, are from Milwaukee and three from other Badger cities.

Johnson will be in the ranks of the Army with C. T. Ben of Racine while Fritz Steltz of Milwaukee, T. J. Mahoney of LaCrosse and A. S. Borne of Racine will oppose them on the other side.

Johnson was a quarterback with West Side high school of Milwaukee before he came to Lawrence and is a first string substitute on the Army squad.

Detroit — Southeastern Michigan coaches have taken another step ahead of the rest of the country in the matter of protecting their scholars' athletes undue physical strain.

These matters have voted to place a 12 minute maximum on the quarterly sessions of all football games played in their district and to increase the time out limit between quarters to two minutes.

In 1913 this same part of Michigan adopted the plan of playing inter-scholastic basketball in quarters instead of halves and shortening the time limit of the game.

Undoubtedly high school athletes are not fully developed physically and it stands to reason that they should not be put to the same tests of stamina as are college and professional athletes.

Teddy's Daughter Walks In Her Father's Footsteps

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington—Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth is considered the most influential individual, politically in Washington today.
Not being a public character though, like her father, she has not the sort of influence with the mass of voters he had, but doubtless she could obtain it if she chose.
But that is not her method.
Mrs. Longworth pulls the strings and when she pulls them she gets results in Congress and the executive offices. She gets most anything she wants.
Whether Mrs. Longworth deliberately set out to acquire all this political power or whether she attained it through more or less natural developments that she never particularly willed, perhaps she doesn't know herself.
SCHOoled IN POLITICS FROM CHILDHOOD
Obviously she had certain advantages to begin with. She was a president's daughter and that president was generally regarded as one of the two or three greatest the country ever had.
Of all his children she is most like the late Colonel Roosevelt. Everybody who knew him and who knows her agrees on this.
Politics, from the time she began to talk, was part of her life. She never had to study public affairs. They were all about her. She absorbed them as naturally as she absorbed food.
Then she married Congressman Nicholas Longworth. Just as every good wife tries to help her husband to succeed, she set out to help Nicholas Longworth along the road to success in politics. And she pre-eminently knew how.
The Longworths never have been ostentatious Washington entertainers, but they have entertained a great deal. They have the means to do so in the best of style and taste and the personal qualities and background to attract to them the country's ablest and most powerful men. Nobody is "big" enough not to feel flattered by an invitation to the Longworth home.

MRS. ALICE ROOSEVELT LONGWORTH

SEEK HER COUNSEL
The visitor meets there the pick of Washington life. These contacts are more than entertaining. They have a concrete value. They develop useful acquaintanceships.
But Mrs. Longworth's own opinions and observations are the ones her visitors particularly seek. They listen and pay attention when she speaks, and it pays, for mighty few are the politicians who, when they speak, know as completely and exactly as Mrs. Longworth knows, what they are talking about.
When Congress is in session, Mrs. Longworth attends the sessions of the House of Representatives almost as faithfully as her husband. She knows absolutely everything that goes on in politics, and she understands it inside-out.
It is no exaggeration to say she shapes national policies, executive and legislative—not all policies, of course, but those she is interested in, and her interests are very wide.
Congressman Longworth is the likeliest candidate for the speaker of the House of Representatives after March 4. If he is chosen, then just that much more power to his wife in national politics.
Not in an uncomplimentary sense, the congressman is his wife's political creation. Nicholas Longworth is an able man and of charming personality. But indolent, as he admits.
Left to himself, he might not have taken the trouble to climb. His wife provided the ingredient of ambition. She provided also a quality of co-operation such as few public men in any country ever have had.

EAT AND—

Lose Weight—Gain Weight—

Juice 1 orange, 4 level tablespoons uncooked wheat cereal without sugar and with skimmed milk, 1 cup soft boiled egg, 1 cup cream of tomato soup with 1 tablespoon whipped cream, 1 cup salmon salad with 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 2 pork chops, 4 tablespoons milk gravy, 2 tablespoons mashed potatoes, 1 cup carrots in ¼ cup cream sauce, 1 cup sorrel and cabbage salad with 3 tablespoons French dressing, 1 whole canned pear on 1 large piece sponge cake with 2 tablespoons whipped cream, 2 tablespoons strawberry water ice folded into 2 tablespoons whipped cream, 1 large piece chocolate layer cake, 2 toasted bran muffins, 2 slices nut bread, 2 Parkerhouse rolls, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon sugar, 4 tablespoons cream, 1 pint whole milk.
Total calories, 4213. Protein, 548; fat, 1862; carbohydrate, 1803. Iron, .0191 gram.
The twelve raisins add approximately 100 calories as well as some iron to the gaining diet. So eat raisins if you would gain.
This salmon salad combines flaked canned salmon and shredded lettuce with mayonnaise to make moist in place of lemon juice. Then a heavy oil mayonnaise makes the whole and 1 hard boiled egg is used as a garnish.
Pork chops are suggested in place of lamb chops as they are richer in fat and usually less expensive if the housekeeping allowance is running low.

HOW TO MAKE GOOD FUDGE

Two cups granulated sugar, ¼ cup milk, ¼ cake bitter chocolate, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 cup hickory nut meats, ½ teaspoon vanilla.
Put sugar into a smooth saucepan. Add milk and let stand a few minutes. Put over a low fire until sugar is melted. Increase heat and bring to the boiling point. Add chocolate and stir until done. Add butter when chocolate is melted. Remove from the fire and let cool. When cold add vanilla and stir until creamy. Add nuts and turn into a buttered pan to become firm. Cut in squares.
The candy is "done" when a few drops from the tip of the spoon dropped into a saucer of cold water hold their shape and can be picked up by the fingers.
The cooked syrup must not be disturbed while cooling if a smooth creamy fudge is desired. The candy should be stirred until it looks dull.

LETTER POSTMARKED "NEW YORK" TO JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT, OPENED BY MRS. ARTHURTON
DEAR MR. PRESCOTT:
For a long time I have been trying to make up my mind to disclose to you something you ought to know.
Do you know that beautiful string of pearl beads that your wife wears, that you have always thought a fine imitation, is real? Instead of being given to her by her sister at her wedding as it was listed among her presents in the newspapers, it was a gift to her from her former lover.
The man has just returned from England, and I have seen them together in New York. As long as this man was in England, I did not wish to disturb your happiness, but now I am afraid your wife will be tempted by the "wealth and loyalty" of this former sweetheart whom she has known ever since she was a young girl.
I have seen them together in New York lately, and they seemed very much interested in each other. Ask your wife why she has not told you about these pearls.
A WELL WISHER.

Letter From Leslie Prescott to Leslie Prescott, Care of the Secret Drawer:
It has come, little Marquise, it has come; and I am sure that never in all your gay young life could you have been so miserable as I am at this present moment.
Yesterday in the midst of my preparations for my anniversary party, I received a telephone from Jack saying, "Leslie, where are those pearl beads you used to wear? I haven't seen them lately."
Before I thought I answered: "They're in my wall safe."
"Isn't it rather foolish to clutter up a wall safe with a trumpery set of pearl beads?" he asked, and I thought there was a sarcastic ring in his voice.
"That's just it, Jack," I said quickly. "They're not a trumpery set of beads."
"Oh—what are they then?"
"They're a string of real pearls. Jack, and I have been trying to tell you about them ever since before I went away to New York, but I didn't know just how."
"That's all very well to say now, Leslie, that you know I have found out about them. I'm coming home directly to get them and return them to the gentleman who gave them to you."
"You will do nothing of the kind, Jack."
"You have nothing to say about what I shall do, Leslie."
"I certainly have nothing to say over the phone. I will tell you the whole story when you come home." (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

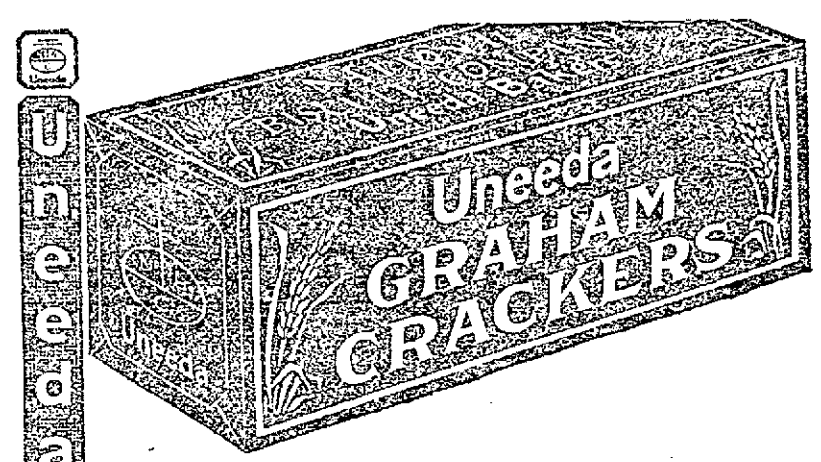

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.
Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.
No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.
If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.
Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

THE CLASSIFIED section is a place of both time and money. DON'T FORGET to read the Classified ads.

When A Man Wants to Lift Two Tons—

He doesn't strain his arms and back in a futile endeavor to accomplish the impossible. Yet—if he has any knowledge of mechanics at all—he knows he can lift those two tons without unusual effort. He gets a good stout crowbar—and then does it rather easily.

He's applying about the same principles as the man who utilizes a little A-B-C Classified Ad to move mountains of difficulties.

A classified ad is a little thing. But—as the physicist would explain it—when its power is multiplied by the distance it acts, it makes ordinary problems seem inconsequential.

Use the A-B-C Ads regularly. Apply a little leverage to your everyday problems—and see them tumble out of your way.

DEATH OF BANKER REMAINS MYSTERY DESPITE INQUIRY

Opinion Divided Between Suicide and Murder in California Case

By Associated Press San Bernardino, Calif. — Opinion stood divided Friday as to whether William R. Fee, president of two Southern California banks, was slain or committed suicide. A coroner's jury held that Mr. Fee was slain after his body was found in the San Bernardino mountains last Tuesday, 50 feet from a house occupied by Miss Mary Watkins, 26, who said she was an affectionate friend of the banker.

W. T. Hahsey, San Gabriel chief of police Friday pointed out that Mr. Fee was a pharmacist in his youth and he may have taken some unusual poison. A fracture found on Mr. Fee's skull, which forms the basis of the murder theory, may have been caused by the impact of a fall after a self-administered dose, the chief of police points out.

Mrs. Fee, widow of the dead banker who accompanied him to the mountains last Saturday, testified at the coroner's inquest that she had differences with Mr. Fee over the position she believed Miss Watkins held in his life.

Miss Watkins countered with a denial that her relationship was such that it would cause trouble in the Fee household.

Though Sheriff W. A. Shay and detectives spent all Thursday searching the canyon for some clue to the identity of Fee's slayer or slayers, the sheriff announced Thursday night no new evidence of importance was in his hands and what he possessed was not sufficient to warrant the arrest of any one so far questioned.

Meanwhile, investigators awaited the outcome of further scrutiny of a blood stained handkerchief found in a cabin near the spot where Fee was found dead and at Alhambra Friday.

One of the dead man's banks was thought likely to furnish detectives with a new lead in their search for the motive which prompted Fee's slayers if he was actually slain, and did not meet his death by accident or suicide.

Funeral services for the banker will be held at Alhambra Saturday.

DEATHS

JOHN GLASHEEN John Glasheen, 65, 418 State-st. died Thursday morning. He is survived by two children, Mrs. Mary and Elizabeth of Appleton and five brothers, Daniel, Jeremiah, William, Michael and Thomas of Kaukauna. Funeral services will be held at 8:30 Saturday morning at St. Mary church. Interment will be in St. Francis cemetery at Hollandtown.

This is the fourth death in the Glasheen family within a year. Mr. Glasheen's wife, a son and a daughter died within that period.

ANTON MERTES

Word was received by Mrs. Frank Sanders, 922 Seymour-st. of the sudden death of her brother Anton Mertes of San Francisco, Cal., which occurred Nov. 12. Mr. Mertes, who was 68 years of age, visited friends at Alameda and dropped dead while waiting for a car to return to his home. He is survived by three sons, George Frank and Carl, all of San Francisco and one sister, Mrs. Frank Sander of Appleton. He was buried Saturday at San Francisco.

DITE FUNERAL

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Pauline Dite, 75, widow of the late Rev. F. Dite, who died Sunday morning at her home at 690 Harris-st. Rev. H. Bernhardt, Pastor of Emmanuel Evangelical church, was in charge of the services. He was assisted by the Rev. J. Rabe, Marion, who offered prayer at the home, the Rev. C. W. Schlueter, Morrison, read the scripture lesson and offered the prayer at the church and the Rev. H. J. Dreckmann Milwaukee, a former pastor of the congregation, read the obituary service. The Rev. C. Rabe, president of the Lutheran synod, preached the funeral sermon, and the Rev. Bernhardt preached in the English language. A ladies quartette from the Woman's Missionary society sang two selections. Interment took place in Riverside cemetery.

The hearse were The Rev. B. Mashman, Neenah; the Rev. A. Abbe, Appleton; the Rev. C. Rabe, Appleton; C. W. Schlueter, Morrison; the Rev. H. Bernhardt, Appleton; the Rev. Walter Lembo, Prairie du Sac.

The out of town persons at the funeral were the Rev. and Mrs. Walter Lembo, Prairie du Sac; Mrs. H. Pope and Mrs. Sheldon, Nehalem; Mr. and Mrs. C. Thiel and Mr. and Mrs. L. Mory, Seymour.

MRS. G. A. SCHLEGEL

Mrs. Theodore Springer, 856 Fair-st., received word of the death of her sister, Mrs. G. A. Schlegel, in Uquiam, Wash., on Nov. 25. Mrs. Schlegel, who was formerly until Anna Marx, lived in Menasha 15 years ago. She lived in Darboy at the time of her marriage.

Mrs. Schlegel is survived by her

SWEDISH PRINCE MAKES VALUABLE FIND IN GREECE

Gustaf Adolf Discovers Ancient Ornaments Made Before Homer's Time

By Associated Press Stockholm—The discovery of 250 gold ornaments that were ancient heirlooms even in the time of Homer, the opening of a Greek tomb that had not been disturbed for more than 3,000 years, and the discovery that the so-called saddle roof was not unknown in the architecture of that early day, are some of the important results, just reported here, of the Swedish Archaeological Expedition, headed by Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf, which is excavating the ancient city of Asine, Greece.

The latest discovery of the Swedish experts came somewhat as a surprise when, after having explored a tomb as big as a house, and finding nothing of unusual interest, turned to a tombless than five feet wide. This proved to be a treasure trove, dating about 1150 B. C., in the Mycenaean, or pre-Hellenic period.

It contained numerous earthenware vessels of rare design and decoration, eight beautiful bronze urns and other vessels, of which one was 20 inches high. One of the smaller bronze urns contained four necklaces of gold and red-stained glass beads, and curiously enough the strings were sufficiently well preserved to show the arrangement of the beads, so that the necklaces can now be restored to their appearance 3,000 years ago. The necklaces contained 660 beads and other ornaments, of which 250 were of gold.

The great tomb nearby, which contained few treasures, is nevertheless of great archaeological value, since it is built in the form of a house, and its top, hewn into the rock, is the exact shape of the familiar "saddle roof," with sloping sides and gables at both ends, thus proving that this architectural detail was known in Greece more than 1,000 years B. C.

The Swedish Expedition has been at work in the excavation of Asine for more than two years and has already unearthed and classified more than 500,000 treasures and fragments of value, some of which date back as far as 2,500 B. C. Yet the experts say that the work has only just begun and that still more important discoveries may be expected in the near future.

All the portable finds of the Crown Prince's expedition are being studied in the University of Lund, Sweden, to which they have been shipped by special permission of the Greek government. As soon as the examination has been completed by archaeological experts the finds will be returned to Greece.

HANDSCHKE HIGH IN DALE TESTING

Takes Both Herd Record and High Cow Honors for Month of October

Alvin Handschke took sweepstakes in the Dale-Hortonville Cow Testing association for the month of October, for the report of Clement Rickaby, official tester, shows that he had the highest producing cow and the highest herd in the 30-day test.

Handschke's grade Guernseys and grade Holsteins averaged 899 pounds of milk for 30 days, with a test of 4.45 per cent of fat and 40 pounds of butterfat. The high cow was Pride, a grade Guernsey giving 1,298 pounds of milk, 5.2 per cent test and 67.3 pounds of butterfat.

Nineteen cows produced 40 pounds of fat or better. The highest ones were:

SWEDISH VESSELS INDIAN PLEADS FOR PAGANISM

Leader Urges Maintenance of Rites Used by Forefathers

By Associated Press Stockholm—Encouraged by the fact that the total gross income of the Swedish merchant marine last year rose to $56,000,000, as against $50,500,000 during the previous year, and that the total foreign trade of Sweden rose to a value of $661,700,000, an increase of more than 9 per cent, a number of Swedish shipping companies have taken definite steps to start new passenger and freight services on overseas routes, especially between Sweden and ports in North and South America.

The Svea Line, which has hitherto plied its trade chiefly between Sweden and England, will start a new regular freight service to North America, and has just purchased two steam vessels in England and a 7,200-ton seagoing motorship in Sweden for the service. The Swedish North Star Line, usually known as the Johnsson Line, is increasing its fleet in transoceanic service, and has just ordered from the Gotaverken shipyards in Gothenburg two motorships of 7,100 tons each, equipped for combined passenger and freight service to South America. This company already has 11 Danish motorships in service. The Swedish-American Line, which will soon place a fourth passenger liner on the Gothenburg-Hallifax-New York route, has announced that in co-operation with the Swedish America-Mexico Line and the Swedish Transatlantic Steamship Company it will hereafter operate a fleet of five fast freight ships direct between New York and Helsingfors, Finland. This company has also purchased a steamer, which will run between Stockholm and Finnish ports, carrying passengers bound for, or coming from, the Gothenburg terminals of the overseas route.

The Swedish merchant fleet added 5 per cent to its tonnage last year and has since been increasing through purchases and new construction, so that at the beginning of August this year it aggregated a gross tonnage of 1,360,500. The fleet now consists of 1,314 steamships, totalling 1,017,800 tons; 959 motor vessels, totalling 256,494 tons; and 703 sailing vessels, totalling 86,377 tons. The gross income of this fleet last year increased 10 per cent over the previous year in spite of the fact that the average freight rates were 10 per cent lower.
